LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Presentation in the Senate today of a letter from Secretary Hughes denying flatly that any secret agreement exists for future British-American co-operation, led today to another effort by opponents of the

The secretary's letter, characterizing suggestions of such an agreement as "absolutely false" was laid before the Senate by Senator Lodge, the Republican leader and a member of the arms delegation who at the same time put into record a telegram from Paul Cravath, the New York attorney denying the accuracy of a statement on the same subject attributed to him by Senator Bush.

CORRECT MEANING IS NOT CONVEYED.

Cravath's telegram embodied a statement issued by him last night in New York, in which he declared that the words attributed to him in the statement read by Senator Borah in the Senate yesterday were either inaccurately quoted or did not correctly convey his meaning. Referring to a passage in which Borah quoted him as saying he had been told of the "understanding" by every member of the American delegation, Cravath said he had, in fact, never talked with any delegate, and alleged international agreement.

Reiterating a denial made in former communication that a secret agreements existed with other nations in connection with the armistice conference, Hughes wrote in day's letter that he hoped to no further aspersions upon honor of the American delegates.

STATEMENT IS DECLARED FALSE

The text of Secretary Hughes letter, which was addressed to Secretary of Lodge, follows:

"My Dear Senator: I notice in the latest charge in the course the debate over the four-power treaty is that there is a secret agree-government and Great Britain with respect to Pacific matters. Any statement that the United States has no secret understandings or agreements with Great Britain in relation to the four-power treaty and to other matters.

"In my letter to Senator Underwood on March 11, in relation to four-power treaty, I said:

"There are no secret notes or understandings."

"Permit me to express the hope that the American delegates will save further aspersions upon their veracity and honor.

"Faithfully yours,

"CHARLES E. HUGHES.

Reading from a pamphlet issued by the Council of Foreign Relations:

February 17, Senators Borah put into record once more the exact quotation from Cravath that he had presented yesterday.

BORAH CONTINUES ON REVISED STATEMENT.

"This, it must be remembered Mr. Cravath's revised, corrected version," continued the Idaho Senator, "And I did not get this document stealing it. It was given to me by a gentleman who is a member of the corporation, who was present at the discussion took place, and says this is what was said."

... American understanding made me. I don't know what he means
'charge.' I made no charge at all. I only read his own statement."
Senator Borah continued reading from the pamphlet a discussion
Cravath, under questioning by Senator H. V. Davis, former undersecretary of State, in which Cravath referred to the Anglo-American fin the Pacific, which, he said, been told could "dominate Japan make her live up to the obligation she has assumed."

NO UNDERSTANDING NOT FORWARDED TO PRESIDENT

into no understandings or agreements during the arms conference that were not embodied in treaty form and made public, it was stated today at the White House in connection with charges in the Senate that an understanding had been reached between the United States and Great Britain relative to action in the Pacific.

The charge of a secret agreement was described as outrageous and unthinkable. It was further declared government should invite Japan to a conference and then be perturbed enough to turn around and make a secret agreement antagonistic to it.

Shifted Commissioner's Answer to Mayor Is Filed Without Reading

Up of heads are H. J. Tresselt and B. Head, who have temporary appointments. Edwards cannot touch the city engineer, W. W. Harmon, as the city engineer's appointment has the city council's ratification. Executive Secretary Jack McNeice can be demoted as chief clerk, but that is all. He, with the others, have civil service jobs.

"We are naturally interested in the change," says McNeice, "but we will hope for the best till the worst happens."

Mills College Receives French Thesis Copies

Printed editions of the thesis on Harte, which won for Dr. Charles Reau, professor of French at Mills College, the degree of doctor of letters from the University of Paris, have been received. Great Britain Will Pay Part of Interest

LONDON, March 21.—(By International News Service.)—Great Britain will pay a half year's interest on her debt to the United States for the autumn, it was officially announced in the House of Commons this afternoon by Sir Robert Horne, chancellor of the exchequer.

The United States has not asked for payment of our debt nor the interest on it," said the chancellor of the exchequer. "But Great Britain proposes to pay six months' interest on the fall. Great Britain is not asking for delay."

This announcement was received with cheers.

Each of the allied nations has borrowed from the United States. War time has paid either interest or principal.

Woman Judge Fines First Culprit $400

REDDING, March 21.—Mrs. Ethel Blair, justice of the peace, gazed triumphantly today on a stock of currency totaling $400.

It was the net profit to the state of her first criminal case.

Fred Stone, the first man to be arrested under the county "little Volstead act," was the victim. He pleaded guilty and was fined $400 by the woman justice.

Wife Too Indolgent; Mate Seeks Divorce

Not satisfied with her husband's salary of several hundred dollars a month, Mrs. Bessie Klein insisted on taking in washing, according to Louis Klein, who says he stood the mental anguish of the humiliation caused by his wife's excess of industry as long as he could before making it the grounds for a suit for divorce. The suit was filed with County Clerk George Gross today. In his complaint Klein states that no amount of protest was sufficient to turn his wife from her habits. The Kleins were married in 1915 and separated last month.

HART ORDINANCE FATE HINGES ON COURT'S RULING

Since it's unconstitutional to sell liquor at all, is it still a misdemeanor to sell it in Oakland without a license? This question must be passed upon by the state supreme court, before the local superior court can decide what to do about Elijah Burkhalter.

Burkhalter is accused of having violated Oakland's Hart ordinance, which was adopted in 1915, on the ground that he sold liquor to two policemen without having a liquor license. Attorney Frank M. Carr, however, has entered the defense for Burkhalter that the ordinance requiring vendors of liquor to post a $500 city license was automatically repealed by the eighteenth amendment, and that therefore it could not have been violated by Burkhalter.

Carr today asked Superior Judge Lincoln S. Church to postpone the setting of Burkhalter's trial until March 31, by which time he hopes to have a decision from the supreme court regarding a similar case. The request was granted.

Game Warden Maps Fight on Poachers

SAN JOSE, March 21.—County Game Warden Ike Koppel of Santa Clara county is today making preparations for a war against violators of the fish and game laws through fishing for trout in the streams of the county six weeks prior to the opening of the trout season. His preparations today are the result of reports coming from the Llagas and Uvas districts Sunday to the effect that a score or more of fully-equipped fishermen had been found by others fishing in the streams. The violators, inquired, inquired parties that they were "fishing for frogs."

Koppel declared today that such practices were always brought about during the first spring days. He stated that while it was almost impossible to check some violations of these laws, due to the extreme territory to be covered, he nevertheless intends to enforce every law governing hunting and fishing, and that any caught violating such laws will be quickly and firmly dealt with.

New Japanese Envoy To U.S. May Be Picked

TOKYO, March 21.—Possibility of the appointment of a new ambassador to Washington as a result of the illness of Ambassador Shidehara, which has caused him to obtain a six months' leave of absence, was discussed here today. Masanao Hanthard, delegate to the Washington arms conference, vice-minister of foreign affairs and former consul-general at San Francisco, was mentioned prominently, as a possible successor to Shidehara.

Persian New Year Celebrated by Envoy

WASHINGTON, March 21.—No-Rouz, the Persian New Year, was celebrated today at the Persian legation here with all the ceremony which makes it a national festival in the land of the Shahs. Minister Mirza Hussein Khan Alai entertained a distinguished company, including Secretary Hughes, at luncheon. At a reception which followed he presented each guest with the age-old symbolic gift of "rich, wheat and gold."

STOLEN JEWELRY IS IDENTIFIED BY ROBBERS' VICTIM

Clerk of St. Paul Says Harris and Schachtel Are Men Who Held Up Store.

Leo R. Deeney, chief clerk for A. I. Shapiro & Bro. of St. Paul, Minn., today identified all of the jewelry found in the safe deposit box of Gus Schachtel as corresponding with the registered number and description of that stolen from his firm on November 3. Deeney identified a number of the larger pieces of jewelry and later, in the presence of District Attorney Richard O'Brien of Ramsey county, Minnesota, identified Jack Harris and Schachtel as the two men who forced him to open the store and the big safe containing $130,000 worth of diamonds. Today he declared his positive belief that Harris and Schachtel were members of the gang which held up the Shapiro & Bro. store two years ago and gave away with $75,000 worth of jewelry.

Deeney will be the chief witness for the state at the extradition proceedings before Governor Stephens at Sacramento.

Shapiro's Bureau today made public a telegram from A. C. Jensen, chief of police of Minneapolis, which requests the Alameda county authorities to hold Jack Harris for the Minneapolis police in case he succeeds in beating extradition on the charge of robbery. Accompanying Chief Jensen's telegram is a telegraphic copy of a grand jury indictment against Harris charging him with the murder of Lyle Neely on December 4, 1920, in Minneapolis. Harris is also suspected of having taken part in a payroll robbery there in which the loot amounted to $16,000.

Four Killed, 20 Hurt In Italian Riots

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

LEASSED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

ROME, March 21.—(By International News Service.)—Four persons have been killed and twenty wounded in fighting between Fascist and Communist in the northern provinces of Piacenza, Bologna and Parma, according to reports received here today. The Fascists are accused of attacking the Communists. Premier Facta has telegraphed to the prefect of the provinces to act decisively in behalf of peace. The prefects are threatened with dismissal unless they check the disorders.

ROME, March 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Disorders occurred today in Naples in connection with the strike of longshoremen, which is continuing throughout Italy in sympathy with the striking Naples dock workers. The marine offices at Naples were attacked by 35 men, who demolished all windows before the police intervened. At Genoa police kept the threatening street crowd in check.

The government has sent special commissioners to Naples for negotiations with the strikers.

WOMAN CAUGHT IN STEEL TRAP AND PERISHES

ALGONAS, Mich., March 21.—Funeral services were held here yesterday for Mrs. Harriet Sear, 72 years old, and known for years as one of the most expert trappers of this region. She lost her life last week when, alone on a hunting trip, she was caught in a muskrat-trap. Apparently unable to free herself, she perished from exposure. Her body was found mired to the waist, in the mud.

MOTHER-IN-LAW HAS NO TERROR FOR INDIANS

DENVER, Colo., March 21.—The married man who is pestered by his mother-in-law should have been a Navajo Indian and married a girl of that tribe. For, according to a recent letter to a local newspaper from the Indian agency at Shipwell, N. M., tribal customs provide that the mother-in-law, after her daughter's marriage, must never see her son-in-law. No provision is made for the daughters-in-law and it is presumed they are allowed more friendly relations with their "in-laws." Instead of becoming her husband's property at marriage, the Navajo bride becomes free, and may leave her husband for sufficient cause.

Chicago Prosecutor Guarded After Threat

CHICAGO, March 21.—(By International News Service.)—Threats of violence against prominent Chicago officials investigating the recent acquittals of labor leaders in various trials in the criminal courts were today reported to have resulted in an armed guard being stationed to protect the home of State's Attorney Robert E. Cripe. Warnings of revenge were also received by jurors, it was said.

Poindexter Warns On Navy Reduction

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(By International News Service.)—A warning that if the present movement in Congress to reduce the personnel of the American navy to 65,000 is successful, the United States will become a smaller naval power than either Great Britain or Japan was voted in the Senate today by Senator Poindexter, Republican of Washington, a ranking member of the Senate naval affairs committee.

RETURN FROM HONEYMOON

RICHMOND, March 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilson, who were married at Martinez on March 13, have returned from their honeymoon and will make their home here. The bride was formerly Miss Grace Bedford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bedford, 2009 Potrero avenue. Wilson is a member of the firm of Smith & Wilson, garage men at Second street and Macdonald avenue.

FORMER POLICEWOMAN

LEDS, Eng., March 26.—Miss Mary Pollock Grant, who served as a London policewoman during the war, made a whirlwind campaign for election to Parliament in the South-east Leeds district. She was selected by the Coalition Liberals to oppose J. O'Grady, the Labor candidate. Her followers declared her initials, "M. P.," a happy omen.

WITNESS PROBE IN GARAGE SUIT IS TO BE MADE

Judge Quinn Says Charges of Bribery Must Be Aired in Court.

Hearing of the suit of Lewis Briggs against A. R. Kosich over the sale of the Lakeside garage at 420 Twenty-third street, was suddenly stopped by Superior Judge James G. Quinn today, in order that a thorough investigation may be made into charges made by both sides that the other side has been tampering with witnesses.

The charge of attempted bribery was first raised by Attorney William L. Laidley, representing Briggs, who declared to the court that Kosich had approached a man named Fulton, who was to be a witness in the case, and offered him $25 to testify for the defense. Attorneys Glickman and Glickman, representing Kosich, immediately countered with the assertion that Fulton had been offered a bribe by representatives of Briggs to testify in the plaintiff's behalf.

"These charges are serious," declared Judge Quinn. "This case will not proceed until they have been thoroughly sifted. If any of them are found to be true, the guilty person or persons must be punished." Judge Quinn appointed the attorneys for both sides to make an investigation and submit their findings to him.

Briggs, in his suit against Kosich, declares that although they were partners in the Lakeside garage, Kosich sold the business and retained all the proceeds. Kosich asserts that he was the sole owner, and that he had a bill of sale for Briggs' share in it.

Air Planes, Autos, Subchasers for Booze Blockade

By PAUL R. MALLON, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—A twentieth century booze blockade composed of airplanes, subchasers and speed automobiles, linked together by wireless, is being set up by the prohibition bureau.

Plans are maturing, officials declared here today, for a 10,000-mile "wall" about the United States to stop the flow of alien rum.

With this blockade 100 per cent effective, prohibition chiefs are confident the only source of supply of "good" liquor will be completely cut off and that drinking thus will be ended.

In working out this plan, Commissioner Roy A. Haynes already has:

Obtained the use of airplanes on the Florida and Texas borders.

Secured a fleet of nine subchasers to work in South Atlantic waters.

Concentrated highly-equipped forces on the New York, New Jersey and New England coast lines, practically chasing the majority of smugglers from that section.

Set a system of wireless communication along the Canadian border in Michigan to enable law officers to chase smugglers more readily.

Haynes intends to send experts to the territories where smugglers now are concentrating, to build up the blockade gradually.

"Snap out of it" MEN

Spring IS here

Yes, sir, spring is here. The hills, covered with verdant grass, proclaim it—the trees are blossoming in all their glory—birds are twittering and singing their delight of the new season—but, man—what is he doing? I'll tell you. He's running around in his old fall things looking for all the world like a last year's bird's nest, when in reality he should be blossoming out in new spring things—keeping up with nature instead of trailing along weeks behind.

Way last Fall I Placed a big order for Spring things for men And I kept saying to myself, "Won't the Boys rave over These nifty hats and Shirts and ties when I show them next Spring?" And I hung A thermometer up in The store so I could Tell when to expect The crowd, but when The Mercury climbed up to 60 And the Spring customers Didn't show up to buy My nifty hats and shirts And ties I thot The Thermometer was lying To me so I threw it in The Ash can and bot a new One and the mercury in it Climbed up to 60 and Stuck there so I've come To the conclusion That It must be the fault Of The men and I've cut The price on everything In the store and if that Don't jazz things up I don't know what will.

BRADY LOSES HIS FIGHT TO EJECT ARBUCKLE JUROR

Court Rules Man Once Accepted and Sworn Must Remain in Box.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—District Attorney Brady lost his fight to have Edward W. Brown, a member of the jury selected to try Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle a third time for manslaughter, removed from the jury for alleged bias.

Superior Judge Lougherback today denied his motion for the right to exercise a peremptory challenge to remove Brown and ordered the state and defense to proceed to the selection of the fourteenth or second or alternate juror.

Judge Lougherback announced his decision without giving his reasons. The hostility of Brown, a wholesale grocer, resulted, according to Leo Friedman, assistant district attorney, from the fact that he had been prosecuted for violations of the pure food law.

The defense opposed the motion on the ground that all the information about Brown was available to the prosecution before he was accepted as a juror, and that it was illegal to reopen the examination of the jury once it had been sworn in.

Before the opening of court Judge Lougherback called the attorneys into his chambers and asked them if they would stipulate to the removal of Brown from the jury. Gavin McNab, Arbuckle's chief counsel, refused, however.

The way was paved for the opening of testimony by the selection of Mrs. Maren N. Madsen as the second alternate juror.

Assistant District Attorney Leo Friedman will make the state's opening statement, outlining the history of the Arbuckle party and the subsequent death of Virginia Rappe, when court reconvenes this afternoon.

Physicians, including the autopsy surgeon, will be recalled as first witnesses.

PLAN FOR PASTOR SLEUTHS FOILED BY PUBLICITY

DENVER, Colo., March 25.—The extensive and intensive "clean-up" of Denver's underworld, to have been participated in by about twenty ministers in co-operation with District Attorney Van Cise is "off."

According to the district attorney, premature publication of some of the plans for the campaign against disreputable houses resulted in the abandonment of the proposed wholesale raids.

A score of clergymen, the report stated, "volunteered" to enter houses of ill fame, represent themselves as prospective sinners, and gain an admission from the inmates, offer some logical excuse and escape, with damaging evidence to pure air and safety.

Quicksilver mines in the United States have decreased from fifty-one in 1917 to fourteen in 1920.

Pact Ratification Means World Peace, Says Hoover

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—Opponents of the four-power Pacific treaty were accused of "shaking the bloody shirt" in an attempt to "find some hidden meaning, some terrible subversion of American rights" in the pact, in an address which Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, delivered before the Lincoln Club of Los Angeles here last night.

He declared the treaty eliminates causes of friction between nations and at the same time permits America to reduce the tremendous cost of naval armament and still "maintain a complete defense of the American people in any event that may come to us."

The usual bitter controversy has been raised over the ratification of this last attempt of nations to agree upon practical steps toward peace," he said. "These agreements were limited to the narrow field of disarmament in the belief that there was an issue upon which full unity of the American people could be obtained. There is that unity, except among a few who prefer measures of force to measures of good-will in our international relations."

"It seems to me that the simple question is, 'Do we want disarmament?' If we do want it, then it must be brought about by agreements under which others reduce their arms. We cannot sacrifice the safety of America by unilateral disarmament ourselves alone."

ELIMINATE ALLIANCES.
"Nor is the matter so simple as an agreed limitation, and ratios of capital ships and other weapons. We must eliminate the alliances of other nations, which in such agreed combinations would again overtop our protection. Far beyond this, we must secure an elimination of the malignant causes of friction between ourselves and our neighbors, before we can discuss the reduction of our arms."

"In consequence, the administration has negotiated a series of agreements which do eliminate the causes of friction with our neighbors, which place us in a position to reduce our naval strength in common with others and to maintain a complete defense of the American people in any event that may come to us, and above all, to start the train of forces of good-will, which are the foundation of peace."

"Why all of these contentions? None of our opponents has yet suggested that our aggressive policy of strength does not leave the defense of America impregnable. They object to one thing. That is the four-power pact agreement that should arise in the Pacific, we are consulted together in the storm center of this contention. It reads very simply:

"It has been assailed as being a military alliance. It is no such thing. But that there could be no basis for this contention, the administration at once agreed that it would accept a reservation declaring that it could never be construed as an alliance. How our opponents fall back on the assertion that there is some hidden meaning in all these words that constitutes some terrible subversion of American rights which they cannot illuminate except by shaking the bloody shirt. As to all this hair-splitting of words, I wish to state just one thing: America does not pledge her word beyond her own statement of that word."

"Those who are in the opposition to this treaty are those who believe that arms are the path to peace. To these honest contenders we can simply differ in opinion and judgment. The world has tried increasing arms for fifty years, and finally killed 10,000,000 men."

STEP TO REFORM WORLD.
"To me, this is the first effective step in the moral reconstruction of the world. It is a real response to a world prayer for substitution of measures of good will for measures of force in settlement of international disputes.

"The points of friction between ourselves and Japan have been settled. The major difficulties between Japan and China have been adjusted, so that good-will may replace hate in the Far East. The tide of foreign aggression on the frontiers of China has been turned back. The open door to commerce and industry of all nations in China has at last been made effective."

"With all these solutions, a vast growth of malignant political forces have been uprooted which, if unchecked, would have driven unalterably in these rivalries in implements to kill, rivalries that were based on growing political irritations, without entering upon the job of killing."

"There are some very practical results to every man, woman and child in America from these agreements. The agreed limitations will bring an immediate reduction in taxes, but beyond that, had we continued in our rivalries and with the programs we had before us, our naval expenditure would have been doubled, and had we gone on we would have spent in 25 years a sum more than the German reparations."

"The economic gains of this limitation of armaments are not to be measured wholly by the saving in our taxes today, not even in the relief to us of further expanded expenditures. The real gain lies in the reconstruction of confidence and hope in the world. I know of no more remarkable proof of how closely or how intimately intertwined are these issues with our daily business life than the tremendous rise in exchange between countries in conference in the three days after it assembled."

ANOTHER ADVANCE.
"The conference stands successful in something more and equally precious. It set another standard of advance in its frankness and sincerity, its absence of diplomatic trading or diplomatic maneuver. Our president and our secretary of state spoke from the American heart in the fashion of the American people. Our colleagues from abroad were inspired with the same sincerity, the same frankness and the same patience. Here was a demonstration that men of nine nations may sit together, all of widely divergent racial characters, of different national points of view, and successfully consummate a tangible and practical step for the world's welfare, without soreness, without sacrifice of national dignity or national sovereignty. Each and every one of the governments in the conference turned to the people with addition to the welfare of the people."

"These treaties will be ratified. They will be ratified because they represent the moral wish of the American people. They are a response to the prayer of the common people of the world that measures of good will shall be substituted for measures of force. It is my belief that the conference has moral and practical values that cannot be measured today. I believe it represents a moral victory that history will place with the moral victory of the American revolution, with that of the freedom of the slaves, with that of the destruction of autocracy in this long fight for human freedom. It is this force in these agreements that will influence the stream of human destiny."

MANCHESTER, England, March 25.—Commander Charles Coote of the Industrial Welfare League declared in an address here that "Only 10 per cent of the boys at our public schools really like games. The remaining 90 per cent play because they have to."

HOOVER DECLARES P. H. MCCARTHY TO RETIRE AS HEAD OF BUILDING TRADES

Secretary Says Colorado River Control to Remain in Federal Hands.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LOS ANGELES, March 21.—A message of cheer to the business men of America was voiced here today by Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, when he told his auditors at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon that business was on the up grade and unemployment steadily growing less, a steady and increasing improvement having commenced last July.

Hoover confined his remarks at the luncheon to a review of existing trade and industrial conditions in the United States. Talking to newspapermen at his hotel, before joining the luncheon party, the secretary expressed the view that the control of the Colorado river would remain in the hands of the federal government. So far as byproducts were concerned, he said, such as the development of power from the various proposed dams, it would be possible for the government might entrust that either to private corporations or to municipal organizations.

FLOOD CONTROL.
Irrigation and flood control, he said, were the principal elements in the situation. Flood control development was subordinate it might be transferred to other hands. The secretary said that he had no idea of the time that would be necessary to carry out the Colorado river projects into operation, but he gave the view that it could not be in the near future, because agreements must be reached by the executives of the seven interested states, these must be approved by the state legislatures and by Congress, and after that has been done plans for development have to be adopted, including a method for equitable division of the waters and also for financing the work.

At present, the secretary said, fifteen different plans for the equitable distribution of the water are under consideration and a great many plans for financing have been submitted.

CO-OPERATION APPROVED.
Hoover also expressed much pleasure with the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case of the Union Oil Company, instead of permitting it to pass into foreign hands. He said he believed it was in the interests of the country generally that the oil and gas resources remain in American hands.

The secretary said he would leave for Palo Alto, his home, tonight. He said he would stay there as long as his duties permitted. He expressed hope that he might get "a good night's rest" and that he would leave in time to be in Salt Lake for further Colorado river hearings next week. Thereafter, he planned to go to Denver and to Grand Junction. He said his tentative plans also called for a visit to Cheyenne, but he was uncertain whether this would be possible.

The Building Trades Council has always maintained that disputes between employers and employees should not be permitted to reach that point at which the inevitable result is industrial strife which closes the wheels of progress and inflicts incalculable injury on the people generally.

CO-OPERATION DISCUSSED.
Lieutenant-Governor Young discussed co-operation between capital and labor for better housing, shortage, and said: "Capital is necessary for the construction of homes, and must have its due, but it may not deny decent living conditions to the workers who do the work. The people of the United States are opposed to industrial conditions that mean less than a fair day's pay for a fair day's work."

Mayor Rolph said: "This is a city where there has been less labor trouble than in any other city in the state. I am proud of the fact that I have carried more union membership cards than any other man in the United States." Timothy Reardon welcomed the delegates in behalf of the Bay Cities Metal Trades Council, and a message from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was read by President McCarthy. Today the convention will listen to addresses by Mrs. C. H. Godfrey of the naturalization bureau of the department of labor, by Professor R. B. Cross of the University of California, who will talk on "Labor and Industry"; by City Engineer M. M. O'Shaughnessy, who will discuss the construction of the Hetch-Hetchy water system.

Copies of the notice were given to the press the action of the Builders' Exchange was taken at a meeting Saturday, it was announced. The attitude of the Trades Council toward the "notice" was not announced.

The exchange said that if the alleged "boycott" is not lifted, it would consider the working agreement between building contractors and the workers here "abrogated and broken."

BATTERY MUST ALWAYS BE IN GOOD CONDITION
The battery on a modern car has a lot of work to do. Ignition, starting and lighting systems, and the horn, all depend on the same small battery for their operation. In order to make these various parts in their duty the battery must be in good condition and full of both solution and energy. If the battery is kept well charged and is frequently examined for distilled water, little difficulty should be experienced with it during its normal average life of one and a half to two years.

Russia, of Unfathomable Wealth, Declared in Ruin

By COLONEL ARTHUR LYNCH, Former Member British Parliament. (Copyright 1921, by OAKLAND TRIBUNE.) LONDON, March 21.—What is the upshot of all my impressions of Russia? I was asked that question by Krassin upon my return to London, and I had some difficulty in answering at first, for there was no one marked impression which I did not find some reason afterward to qualify. I replied to Krassin finally, and he was rather struck by the answer: that Russia seemed to me a new world.

Summing up all these different forces and endeavoring to estimate in an impersonal spirit the various factors, I reach the following conclusion: The present state of affairs cannot endure. Even if there be no aggression from without—though I am told attacks are now being planned—Russia must fall into sheer bankruptcy for lack of proper outlets of development of those first beginnings of industry and trade which we have seen and which have already relieved the situation.

If the doctrine Communists put down their heels and revert to the old system, then Russia will pass through a period of increased ruin and misery.

The riches of the country are unfathomable, only that they require to be properly exploited—corn, wheat, coal, copper, gold, timber. If Russia had been the most flourishing country, and there had been no external aggression at all, yet the attempt to drive the economic and social life of the country into the crude mold of Communism, must eventually have brought it to ruin and misery.

With Russia the break-off from wisdom or efficiency has occurred at a level lower than that of any other civilized community. The fact of attempting to dispense with money altogether, because some aspects of the money question offended their susceptibilities, throws a revealing light upon the mentality of some of these great rulers.

The government is not that of a republic at all. The atmosphere of the place reminds me rather of the days of the government of Thirty, when the presence was vaguely felt of a great but unseen power which, at any time, might carry off a citizen to an unknown fate.

The Tchay-Kah carries on similar work to that of the old Secret Police of the Czar, and by like methods, and to some extent by the same agencies. In Russia there is an atmosphere of distrust and suspicion, of a certain feeling of insecurity, and also a sense of the provisional nature and instability of the government itself.

Other countries, not far removed from Russia, have undergone even more severe economic trials; their natural strength and their resources are less; and they are surrounded by enemies active or potential. In none of those, however, does one find that strange and disagreeable atmosphere of suspicion, and restraint, and uncertainty which clouds the political air in Russia. If this great country is going to come into its own, that atmosphere must be cleared.

With certain signs of weakness, and with terrible failures due to having taken on the wrong kind of strength and vitality. First of all, there is the wonderful Russian character; their power of work and endurance.

Then there is the great literature of Russia, which has a character of strength and incisiveness, and reveals great qualities in the nation, but above all my hope for the future of Russia rests rather in the intellectual spirit of the young men of the universities.

The army also is, as I have described, a tower of strength; and there again the intellectual capacity of the officers compares well with that of any other country in the world.

Wild Cries Heard, Foul Murder Not Done
BUCYRUS, Ohio, March 25.—The phone rang. Night Patrolman Fred Bacon answered. It was a night when the zero weather was the nipiest.

Bacon was informed that a woman believed murder had been committed in North Bucyrus. Wild screams of a woman could be heard plainly, it was asserted.

Fred, who is a Spanish-American War veteran, hustled along, climbing hills en route like the American boys went up San Juan hill. Arriving at the north side Bacon found that the woman had been mistaken. The shrill cries emanated from a few hogs calling for their breakfast.

Russ Troops Called Out on Frontiers

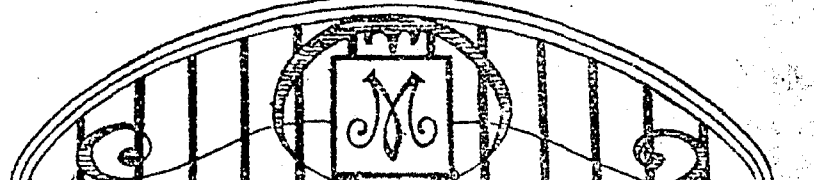

RIGA, March 21. (By International News Service.)—The soviet war commissioner has mobilized three additional classes of troops, it was reported from Moscow today. The explanation given is that Russia fears an attack on her western frontier.

Leon Trotsky, the commissar for war, has gone to the front to review the troops.

Announcement is made that the Russians will strengthen the "other fronts" in addition to the western.

Suitor Slays Teacher, Self, Before Pupils

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEAFSP WIRE TO TRIBUNE. FORT MORGAN, Colo., March 21.—Hein Mura, 22 years old, teacher in the North Star rural school, eight miles west of this place, was shot and instantly killed in the sight of her 20 pupils yesterday by Maggarrino Stabile, 23 years old, said to be a rejected sailor. Stabile then turned the gun on himself, falling dead at the side of the girl.

Bakersfield Builders State Stand to Union
BAKERSFIELD, March 21.—The Bakersfield Builders' Exchange today sent notice to the Kern County Building Trades Council, in a communication which the exchange said was to be considered "official" that if the "boycott" alleged to be in effect against members of the exchange by building tradesmen "is not lifted by March 23, the contractors belonging to the exchange would put into operation the American plan in the building industry of Bakersfield."

Copies of the notice were given to the press the action of the Builders' Exchange was taken at a meeting Saturday, it was announced. The attitude of the Trades Council toward the "notice" was not announced.

The exchange said that if the alleged "boycott" is not lifted, it would consider the working agreement between building contractors and the workers here "abrogated and broken."

A Children's Party

Mother Goose is going to give a "Tippy Toe" Bubble Book Party and many of her favorite characters are going to come to life. The party will be held in front of King Cole's Castle which will be in the Roof Garden.

The little boy who is tired of his playthings blows a great big bubble and out comes the Girl with the Curl, Old Mother Hubbard, Bobby Shaftoe and other favorite Mother Goose characters.

It will be different from anything you have ever seen.

There will be two parties—one at 10:30 Saturday morning and one at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Admission will be by ticket obtainable only in the Children's Department on the Second Floor

These tickets will be limited to the capacity of the theater. Have mother bring you early for yours before they are all gone.

Tiniest Tots are urged to ask for the Morning tickets to avoid the afternoon crowds and because they can see better.

It's going to be a jolly affair—a real little play on a real stage. Gorgeous scenery, brilliant costumes, and real live actors.

The little actresses and actors who will take part in the Mother Goose Party will be from Miss Belle Butler's Dancing School.

Another Important Announcement (This time for grown-ups)

TRADE FOLLOWS GOOD WILL, SAYS CHINESE CONSUL

Oriental Tells of U. S. Advantage in East Over Rival Nations.

Speaking on "Trades and China," Dr. Koliang Yih, consul general of the republic of China, addressed members of the Electric Club at their luncheon yesterday at the Hotel Oakland.

Dr. Yih, who is a graduate of Cornell University and who served in the diplomatic corps in Washington, D. C., said that China leans upon America, and said that trade, rather than the flag, but, rather, follows good will.

"Nearly all of our trade," he said, "is under flags of other countries. Due much to shipping laws. China has not built a big tariff wall but has the modest advantage of only 5 per cent. She is endeavoring to make the cost of living low. It is true that the standard there is not high, but she is gradually raising that, so there will not be labor competition against the world."

He then named five points in which China had progressed in the last twenty years. Continuing, he said: "Education has been simplified. Our people have been changed from a classical training to a simple one. Heretofore students had to familiarize themselves with some 5000 characters or picture alphabet. This has been reduced to thirty-nine. It is a revolution when you think of the China Gazette as having been printed since the thirteenth century. This is long before movable type was known in the other parts of the world. China sent its quota in the world's war, in coolie laborers. These men have been brought home and are being educated. China has trained her men in the large parts of the world so that she may take her place in the world's commerce. China is not going to unbalance labor. Many of the foreign seaport cities have organized China Chambers of Commerce. Seattle has not only done this, but is taking students from China for education.

"You must realize that two-thirds of China live in one-third of its vast territory. You should realize that the great rivers and great mountains of China separate its people and within these natural barriers man and customs differ. China is bringing these together."

The speaker then told of the enormous debt China has carried. Continuing, he said: "China wants to better make money. She has no debt. She borrowed some $2,000,000 at 20 per cent interest and bought up all the opium which was held in foreign hands in China and burned it up. Where country could show better faith in the cause of humanity than that one act? She is determined that no vice shall be laid at her door."

The speaker closed by relating her value in trade, of which she has good will only can trade be fostered. Show China integrity and she will trade. There is room for foreigners in China, but only in sincerity will success be met."

MANUSCRIPTS BY MUSIC MASTERS STOLEN IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Original manuscripts of musical compositions by Beethoven, Bach, Schubert, Schumann and others were stolen from the music publishing house of Breitkopf & Hartel, over the week end, the publishers reported to the police today. Other articles stolen are valued at between $10,000 and $15,000, but the company declared it was impossible to place a valuation on the manuscripts because they are irreplaceable.

The company has been in business in New York for more than a hundred years. Sheet music in vast numbers was thrown to the floor by the burglars, making the passage through the aisles impossible. They left many extremely valuable old violins untouched.

The plan of which this annuity is a feature, permits a Congregational minister to become a member of an annuity fund by paying annual dues of 6 per cent of his salary. Should a minister having a salary of $2000 take out a membership at the age of 30, the accumulation when he was 65 would provide an annuity of about $1030.

Aid for Retired Pastors Increased by Churches

CHICAGO, Ill., March 21.—Justice to the "veterans" of the church rather than charity to disabled or aged ministers has become the keynote of ministerial relief in many Protestant churches. The denominations generally have increased the amounts distributed, and many have made radical changes in their pension plans. Retirement pensions have frequently been provided in addition to the original provision for relief in cases of pressing need. The need of assuring prospective ministers of provision for old age or disability, in order to gain new recruits for the pulpit despite low salaries is said to have been one of the motives which led to the introduction of pension systems. These facts are brought out in statements from the various denominations compiled by The Veteran Preacher, a publication of the Board of Conference Claimants of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Denominations and religious organizations which have developed or introduced pension plans under which ministers pay dues include, in alphabetical order, Baptists (Northern and Southern), the Church of Christ, Congregationalists, Methodists of Canada, Presbyterians, the Reformed Church of America, Southern Methodists, United Brethren, United Lutherans, United Presbyterians and the Y. M. C. A. In some cases a clergyman's dues are paid or shared by his congregation. The part contributed to the fund by clergymen or officers' dues varies; under the plan of the Y. M. C. A., yearly payments based on a percentage of salaries are made to a common fund, to which the association pays half and the employed officer half.

Another method for aiding widows is the joint life annuity, under the expanded annuity plan of the Congregational Church. This joint annuity is payable to minister during his lifetime and to his widow in case of his prior death.

The plan of which this annuity is a feature, permits a Congregational minister to become a member of an annuity fund by paying annual dues of 6 per cent of his salary. Should a minister having a salary of $2000 take out a membership at the age of 30, the accumulation when he was 65 would provide an annuity of about $1030.

BEAUTY SPECIALIST TELLS SECRET

A Beauty Specialist Gives Home-Made Recipe to Darken Gray Hair.

—Mrs. M. D. Gillespie, a well-known beauty specialist of Kansas City, recently gave out the following statement regarding gray hair: "Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, and a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and will not rub off.—Advertisement.

ITALY HOPES FOR GOOD TIMES AFTER GENOA SESSIONS

Rome Government in Accord With British Policies, Expecting Finance.

ROME, March 21.—(By the Associated Press)—As the date for the opening of the Genoa conference approaches, greater interest is being shown by the Italian public, and hope is expressed that the meeting will serve to bring about the economic reconstruction of Europe and lead to a much-needed era of prosperity.

Public opinion here is in accord with that in England on nearly every problem to be discussed, but the Italian finance commission does not share the British point of view on one of the most important questions having to do with finance.

England is represented as favoring a scheme for definite stabilization of European currencies, equivalent in countries where exchange is much depreciated, to a virtual scrapping of the present currency, which would be replaced by currency having a gold basis.

PARIS, March 21.—European countries which were neutral during the war will send representatives to a conference to be held in Bern, toward the end of the present month, according to information received at the French foreign office. The conference will consider what action the neutrals should take the Genoa conference in the common interest.

SWEDISH FARMS GIVEN BIG BOOST BY ELECTRICITY

Most of Agriculture Areat Is Now Tapping New Source of Energy.

STOCKHOLM, March 21.—Electricity has conquered one-third of the entire cultivated area of Sweden, according to the latest official reports. If Sweden continues electrifying at the present rate, it will only be a few years till almost the whole country will be run by electricity.

FARMERS' HARNES POWER.

Large power stations deliver most of the electric energy used in the rural communities; but in many places the farmers themselves have installed turbines and built private power stations, harnessing for this purpose swift streams and small waterfalls on their own properties. Those enterprises, however, are generally cooperative.

A great deal of the most arduous farm labor is performed by electrically driven machinery at a cost far below the cost of machines propelled by steam or horsepower or of hand labor. Water is pumped for cattle by electricity, threshing machines are driven by electric current, timber is sawed by motor power, and farm hands are no longer ordered to cut firewood by hand because it is cheaper to have even than labor done by electricity. Candles have almost disappeared.

USES ARE EXTENDED.

In many cases grain is dried and cleared by being passed through electrically driven hot air fanning machines. It is not uncommon to find on the larger estates electric elevators which lift entire wagon loads of hay or grain and dump them where desired in the barns.

One Swedish estate owner has installed an electrically operated irrigation system whereby a large field can be watered in times of drought. It is now now only a matter of a short time till plows and harrows will be propelled by electric power.

ENGLISH JUSTICE.

NOTTINGHAM, Eng., March 21.—Cruelty to children is cheaper than cruelty to animals here. A mother who held her child's fingers to a hot poker was freed; a woman who starved her dog was fined $10.

YOUNG MOTHER MAKES SACRIFICE

Mrs. Downing almost hated to go shopping these days. The windows were so full of the new displays of Spring garments—hats, dresses, suits and coats of bewitching loveliness. Somehow she felt old and out of date, though she was only thirty and as beautiful as ever. This Spring her two youngsters had needed so many things and she had just insisted that her husband get a new suit. But it was hard to see all the lovely new things and not plan what she would get for herself if there had been more money left after buying clothes for her little family.

It was her husband himself who solved her problem one evening at home. He picked up his evening paper and read to her about Cherry's, 1513 13th street. There she could select some lovely things and get them at once with only a small payment down. With six months to pay they could manage it nicely and her husband urged her to go on a buying spree—to get a hat, a suit and some dresses.

Cherry's store for men is at 523 13th street.—Advertisement.

CYRIL W. ARMSTRONG, a traveling salesman, newspaper reporter, and an attorney of Chicago, who was notified recently that he had fallen heir to a large estate in Africa and also the title of earl. Armstrong is undecided whether he would like to be an earl or just a plain American citizen. He was born in India in 1880, but has been in this country a number of years and is so attached to it that he doubts whether he would be willing to relinquish his citizenship for any title.—Copyright, 1922, by Underwood & Underwood.

Mathilde Gets Warning About Foreign Bride

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

CHICAGO, March 21.—Edith Rockefeller McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller Sr., tracing the progress of women's organizations here yesterday that of a woman married outside her own clan or tribe she'll be a slave. History proves it.

The meeting at which Mrs. McCormick spoke was preliminary to the Women's Progress Exposition to be held here June 3 to 10, of which Mrs. McCormick will be general chairman. The engagement of Mrs. McCormick's 16-year-old daughter, Mathilde, to Max Oser, Swiss riding academy professor, recently was announced. "In olden times," Mrs. McCormick said, "if a man were bored with the women of his own tribe, he went and stole a wife from another clan."

The stolen bride had a sorry time of it, according to Mrs. McCormick, who said the women of the man's tribe always hated the alien bride, who consequently had to depend for happiness entirely on her husband, to whom she was virtually a slave. From this condition, she said, there grew up a kind of serfdom for women which lasted two or three centuries outside their own tribe.

This period of serfdom was an era of down curves for women, she said, but it was sandwiched in between two up curves, the ancient and modern. "Women are now victors. But they are much more than victors," Mrs. McCormick said, "for they have done much more than fight through sociological development and growth. "All the modern woman wants is to be let alone, to develop, to demonstrate, and to expand," she said. "Mother love is important, but it is not everything. Woman's universal love is a bigger thing," she said in conclusion.

The fire that gave birth to fire insurance as a business occurred in London in 1666.

EUREKA DEPORTS BANNED SPEAKER

EUREKA, March 21.—Elmer Smith, who was prevented by the American Legion from making a speech here last Saturday night, and who was arrested in Scotia Sunday night on a charge of disturbing the peace as a result of his attempt to speak here, was escorted out of Eureka last night by a deputy sheriff.

Smith is being taken to San Francisco "as a means of getting him out of the country," the authorities said. He was brought here today from Scotia after the charge against him there had been dropped. Smith was acquitted of a charge of murder in connection with the Armistice-Day shootings at Centralia, Wash., in 1919.

South Seas Dances

Shock N. Y. Police

NEW YORK, March 21.—Dances in South Seas style, in which young women appear in costumes of straw and a few beads are frowned on by New York police. From a restaurant in West Forty-fifth street early today four dancers, the manager of the restaurant, the head waiter and two waiters were hauled off to a station house.

The place was visited a few nights ago by members of the evening clothes section of the police force, who declared they had paid $2.35 for half a pint of whisky and $2 for a bottle of ginger ale. When they went to the restaurant to serve a warrant for illegal sale of liquor they ran into the South Seas dance.

GIRL PLAYS SHE IS GYPSY, SHOT BY GRANDPAPA

NEW YORK, March 21.—Six-year-old Emma Bauer was all dressed up as a gypsy to "surprise grandpa" when he came home from work last night.

As she heard his footsteps in the hall she scrambled under the dining room table, while daddy, grandpa and Uncle Richard sat watching for the nightly game to be enacted.

"Where's my little sweetheart?" inquired Grandpa Ernest Fuchs, as he entered the dining room. "You'll have to find her," smiled Grandma Fuchs.

A giggle gave grandpa the clew and he started toward the table, but drew back in mock alarm as the "gypsy" emerged.

To make the play more exciting he seized a pistol from the sideboard drawer and pointed it at Emma. There was an explosion and she fell with a bullet through her heart.

Ambulance surgeons found the old man sitting in a daze, with the limp form of the little "gypsy" in his arms. She had died instantly, they said.

AUSTRIA RESENTS LOAN CONDITIONS

VIENNA, March 21.—It is estimated that about 24,700,000 sterling will be available from the three credits, its Czech, British and French, now seemingly assured Austria. The question is now raised by Austrian newspapers whether this amount "will be sufficient to merely pay the invalid's hospital bill until convalescence man begin or whether it will finance his recovery."

It is agreed in all quarters that the money must be used to stabilize the krone and not frittered away or thrown into the same rat holes that heretofore have swallowed advances. That the British loan at least and probably the French also, is to be under the meticulous administration of a British controller, Mr. Young, is regarded as assuring its use in only such directions as the lender approves.

The press generally expresses considerable resentment at this feature of the loan and indicates it is shared in governmental circles. Such terms as the "Ottomanization" and "Tunisianization" of Austria, "a foreign colony" and similar phrases are used, in part at least, are in pledge for the British loan has come in for its share of denunciation as a "paw-broking deal."

The immediate effect of the announcement of the loans and the discussion as to what level the krone should be standardized was to harden the Austrian currency against foreign exchange.

Financiers, economists and public officials fill the newspapers with advice regarding the figure of standardization. These range from eight Swiss centimes normally about 1 1/2 cents, for 100 kronen to as high as 10 (normally about 4 cents). Dr. Rosenberg, until recently financial advisor to the government, warns against a basis any higher than the internal purchasing power of the krone. Warnings are given by many economists that the country cannot stand a too rigorous deflation in its present social and economic condition.

Countess Robs Her Admirer of $100,000

ATHENS, March 21.—Countess Olga Borisloff, widow of a Bulgarian nobleman, has been revealed as the vampire in the life of a young bank employee whose life she wrecked. Coming here apparently with the intention of living the life of an adventuress, she won the love of the young man, who had charge of the bond department. She persuaded him to take her $100,000 worth of bonds that she might see "what they looked like." She drugged her suitor at dinner and fled with the bonds to Turkey, reaching the border an hour before an alarm was sent broadcast.

Millions Illiterate In America, Is Claim

CHICAGO, March 21.—"Five million people in the United States can neither read nor write any language. Many thousands of children are housed in insanitary and dangerous school houses. More than 1,800,000 children have less than thirty-four square feet of playground each. Sixty-seven per cent of the children of the country are underprivileged. We are a nation of sixth-graders taught by eleventh-graders." This was the statement of Mark

T. McKee in an address here in which he outlined plans for the home for motherless and fatherless children proposed by the Brotherhood of American Yeomen.

100th Anniversary Of Marriage Observed

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., March 21.—A. G. McKenzie, who has passed the four-score mile post in the journey of life, has reported that his father, aged 122, and his mother, 119 years old, celebrated their 100th wedding anniversary in Scotland a short time ago.

McKenzie lives in Oregon county. He said that he was the youngest son of seven in the family and that all of his brothers are alive.

VETERAN LEADER ON U. S. HOSPITAL INSPECTION TOUR

Blames Congress, Wall Street
For "Inhuman Treatment" of Disabled.

Ralph A. Horr, of Seattle, senior vice-commander of Disabled American War Veterans, spent today at the government hospital in Palo Alto investigating conditions there. Horr is just completing a 30,000-mile trip throughout the United States investigating the care given to men who lost their health in the world war.

Horr visited Palo Alto just prior to starting his tour and presented an adverse report on conditions there. This evening Horr will address the members of the Disabled Veterans in the bay district and give them a report of conditions as he has found them throughout the country.

WALL STREET BLAMED.
According to Horr, Congress and Wall Street are to blame for the "barbarous and inhuman treatment of 100,000 Americans who were disabled in the war and are suffering from nervous diseases." He said that 25 per cent of the cases are nervous cases and there is no provision for such cases anywhere in the United States.

"As a result of improper treatment provided in an inadequate hospital system," said Horr, "America is likely to lose about 47 per cent of the men who could otherwise be cured. The Letterman hospital in San Francisco, but this hospital, like all army hospitals, is open to the old criticism."

SAYS FOOD IS INFERIOR.
"Army control and army discipline have no place with men who have no immediate connection with the army, other than a desire to regain their health. Why should a common soldier be expected to regain his health in Letterman hospital on food of an inferior quality to that served to the officers?"

"To California the care of the disabled veterans means a greater problem than to any other state in the union," Horr said. "Great numbers of the disabled veterans are coming to the Pacific coast, according to his report, and he urges that the people of the state make a vigorous endeavor to force action through Congress to meet the situation."

The war veterans, whether disabled or not, are entitled to compensation from the government," Horr concluded. "The men who went to war had no chance to strike for higher wages like the men in other industries. The government should not forget them now."

RICHMOND

Howard Preliminary Continued to April 6

RICHMOND, March 21.—The preliminary examination of R. V. Howard, charged with receiving stolen goods in connection with the recent Santa Fe box car robberies, was continued yesterday afternoon to April 6 after the day had been spent in examination of six witnesses in Justice John Roth's court.

Six witnesses were examined, including: Ernest Raphael, shipping clerk for Haas Brothers, San Francisco; E. P. Boekem, receiving clerk for the Santa Fe, San Francisco; Dan L. Penn, Santa Fe, checking clerk; Walter E. Mackay, Santa Fe, clerk; J. R. Baker, Santa Fe, car scaler; and G. W. Brown, inspector of seals for the Santa Fe.

Children Taught Use of Library

RICHMOND, March 21.—Miss Willie Reese Shell, children's librarian at the Richmond public library is busy instructing members of the eighth grade of the Lincoln school in the proper use of the library. Use of card catalogue, arrangement of books on the shelves and use of the magazine indexes are explained to the pupils, a portion of the course being actual use of these library requisites.

Pupils of the eighth grade of the Washington school will also receive this instruction at the West Side branch library.

Lodge Celebrates 26th Anniversary

RICHMOND, March 21.—Initiation preceded the program in celebration of the twenty-sixth anniversary of the founding of the Fraternal Brotherhood last night.

The program included a piano solo by Miss Virginia La Salle; vocal solo, Mrs. Gloria Rasmussen; violin solo, Errol Lane; song, Mrs. Ruth Hart; recitation, Mrs. Mary Moyle; and duet, Mrs. Gloria Rasmussen and W. F. Hayward.

The committee of arrangements included Mesdames Joella Bonham, Grace Cole, Mary Schultz, Alberta Hopper.

Refuse Dump in Richmond Sought

RICHMOND, March 21.—Blake Brothers, owners of a parcel of land that is now being used as a dump, have notified the city council to hunt a new dumping ground, because of the unsanitary condition of the Blake premises. At last night's session of the council no action was taken, but in a discussion of the situation it was intimated that the city would make an appropriation at the close of the fiscal year in view of covering expenses of an incinerator.

$100,000 Fund for Memorial in Sight

RICHMOND, March 21.—The city council last night recommended to the board of equalization favorable action toward appropriating an additional $25,000 for Richmond Post No. 10, American Legion, for the purpose of building the proposed memorial hall.

If the sum is granted by the board, the local post will have approximately $100,000 for the memorial hall, the supervisors yesterday having agreed to levy a tax of two mills on the dollar for 1922 for the memorial fund sought by the eight legion posts of Contra Costa county.

The new funds will be available in October. The local post has $25,000 already on hand; $45,000 will come from the county levy; and $25,000 from the city next fall.

Soft Drink Law To Be Redrawn

RICHMOND, March 21.—The soft drink ordinance, up for final passage last night before the city council, was laid over one week in order that certain passages may be redrafted. A. M. Gallegos was granted a permit to dispense soft drinks at 206 Macdonald avenue. H. Edwards and H. Hoffman were permitted to remove their place of business from 126 Macdonald avenue to 134 Macdonald. Mrs. Mary Campbell was granted permission to remove her business from 2209 Macdonald avenue to 250 Twenty-second street. Application of H. C. Cecil to open a soft drink place opposite the Lincoln grammar school was turned down.

Club Celebrates Sixteenth Birthday

RICHMOND, March 21.—The Richmond club celebrated its sixteenth birthday anniversary in the club rooms yesterday afternoon with a record attendance. A feature of the luncheon which was served was a birthday cake which was cut by the club's only remaining charter member, Mrs. C. B. Evans. Mrs. A. L. Scarlett acted as toastmistress. A musical program was given.

Mrs. H. A. Stiver is chairman of next Monday's session, which will be "Music Day." Howard L. Mulholland, baritone, reader and impersonator, of Oakland, will entertain.

WAR VETERAN DEAD.

RICHMOND, March 21.—James Lafferty, who died at San Jose last Wednesday, was well known in Richmond, having lived here for several years with his mother on the west side. While here he was employed by the Standard. A year ago he left to reside at San Jose. He served in the war overseas as a member of Company B, under Captain E. G. Griffin.

CLASH BETWEEN L. A. PASTOR AND WOOLWINE LOOMS

Minister Faces Questioning
on Prayers With Obenchain Trial Juror.

By FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—"We are going to find out why convictions in big criminal cases in this county are so hard to get," District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine.

"If anyone intimates that I have been using the office of the district attorney to influence the course of justice, they will have a fight on their hands," Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher. These two statements, coming on the eve of Dr. Brougher's visit to the district attorney's office to be interrogated about the Madalynne Obenchain trial, were believed today to foreshadow a hot tilt between the churchman and Woolwine.

PRAYED WITH JUROR.
Dr. Brougher, pastor of the fashionable Temple Baptist church, was to be questioned on a report that he had prayed with Mrs. Grace Ward, one of the three jurors who voted to acquit Madalynne Obenchain of the charge of murdering John Belton Kennedy.

He was also to be asked if he introduced Mrs. Ward to "Steady Ralph," divorced husband of the accused woman.

Dr. Brougher admitted today that he had prayed with Mrs. Ward. "This petition, made at her request, was simply for divine guidance that she might perform her duty as a juror," he said. He emphatically denied that he had introduced Ward to "Steady Ralph."

Mrs. Ward, when questioned at the district attorney's office, was reported to have said she was introduced to Obenchain at the church office, to which she had gone to pay her dues. No mention was made of the murder trial, according to her purported statement.

FACED BY INFORMANT.
Mrs. Ward was confronted in the district attorney's office with Mrs. Nina Battelle, who made a report to Woolwine. Mrs. Battelle was the only woman juror who voted for conviction.

The nine convicting jurors wished to impose the death penalty, it was disclosed. In the district attorney's office Mrs. Battelle said Mrs. Ward told her that Dr. Brougher had stated he believed Madalynne Obenchain innocent and Arthur C. Burch guilty.

Mrs. Ward denied she said it. Both women were emphatic.

Mrs. Obenchain's second trial has been set for June 5.

AMERICANS GO, COBLENZ STORES LOWER PRICES

COBLENZ, March 21.—Coblenz, once the temporary home of thousands of American soldiers, is again returning to its status as a German city. Within the last four months the American garrison on the Rhine has been reduced to such an extent that more civilians now are seen on the streets than soldiers, while a few months ago the city had the appearance of an army cantonment in the United States.

Commercially, the loss of so many soldiers has been felt throughout the American area. With the rate of exchange well over the 200 mark, prices of all kinds of merchandise had been advanced. Now that the bulk of their trade comes from the German population of Coblenz, the store are forced to reduce their prices to fit the pocketbooks of their customers.

Four months ago there were 15,000 American soldiers stationed in the American area. Within that brief period the force here had been reduced by 9000 men. The American garrison in Coblenz today is smaller than the German force maintained here before 1914.

Council to Act On New Subway Monday

RICHMOND, March 21.—Final action on the subway improvement under the Southern Pacific tracks will be taken at the next meeting of the council. The city engineer has been ordered to have the resolution of intention ready next Monday night. Thirty-nine property owners submitted a protest against the improvement.

The Southern Pacific company is ready to start work on the pedestrian tunnel, according to Mayor Garrard, just as soon as the city council passes resolution of intention.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD.

RICHMOND, March 21.—Funeral services for Doris Flora Siemon, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Harrison Siemon, 4609 Nevin avenue, who died Sunday night at the Children's hospital at Oakland, were held today from a local undertaking parlor. The remains were taken to Oakland for cremation.

SURPRISE PARTY HELD.

RICHMOND, March 21.—Royal Neighbors honored Mrs. Ella Simmons at Pythian Castle last night with a surprise party on the eve of her departure for Stockton, Missouri. Mrs. Simmons received many expressions of regard from her fellow lodge members. The party was arranged by Mrs. J. Spires and Mrs. Preston Roster.

Murder Is Mystery "HONEST JOHN" BRUNN—circus magnate, said to be a friend of the late William Desmond Taylor, movie director—who was killed by two charges of buckshot fired through a window pane while sitting in his home at Riverside, N. J. Two theories were worked on by the police in trying to link the two mystery murders, but they have been tentatively abandoned—Underwood & Underwood photo.

ALLEGED AUTO THIEVES CAUGHT

ALAMEDA, March 21.—Three alleged automobile thieves were caught by the police and three autos were reported stolen from Alameda last night. The three men caught are: Arthur Love, a chauffeur, living at the Hotel Vernon in Oakland; James McDonald, an electrician, of 427 Tenth street, Oakland; and Omar Tournier, a clerk, living at the Portland hotel, Ninth street, Oakland. All three will appear before Police Judge L. R. Weinmann on a charge of grand larceny. The arrests were brought about by the Hitehook patrol.

The three are charged with having stolen the car of Walter Tibbels, 2287 Central avenue, while it stood at Central and High street. The men were seen leaving in the machine and the police department notified. Policemen Richard Britt and Stanley Loveland went in pursuit and chased the three into Oakland, where their arrest took place.

A seven-passenger car belonging to G. Schwab, 2111 San Antonio avenue, was stolen while parked in front of a local theater.

W. J. Hendrickson, 3236 Briggs avenue, reported that his car had been stolen shortly after midnight, from Central avenue and High street, where the car had been parked. The police of the Eastbay district as well as of Tracy and Stockton have been notified.

Soldiers who go A. W. O. L. in Honolulu are punished by a 25-mile hike back to barracks, all the way uphill.

FAMOUS FRIGATE MADE BARRACKS

NEWPORT, R. I., March 25.—The old vessels of the United States navy, as well as the new, are feeling the effects of the government's economy policy. The old frigate Constellation is now being used as barracks at the naval training station here.

The frigate, made famous during the war of 1812, had been used as a training ship by the navy. The change was made because of government economies. Naval officers claim, however, that even now the Constellation could go to sea on short notice.

Modjeski Opposes Goat Island Bridge

An argument that a bridge to Goat Island would mean a congestion of ferry slips has been advanced by Ralph Modjeski, engineer, who with John Vipond Davies has submitted plans for a bridge across the bay. Modjeski has written Richard Welch, chairman of the San Francisco supervisors, enclosing statistics and newspaper clipping to support his contention.

Richmond Speeders Warned to Beware

RICHMOND, March 21.—On recommendation of Chief of Police Wood last night the city council appointed Louis T. Smith to look after enforcement of the speed laws in the city. He will receive a salary of $160 a month, the city to supply him with gasoline and oil.

S. F. MAN NABBED MASQUERADING IN WOMAN'S GARB

Engineer Goes Walking With Wife Attired in Short Skirt, Cheeks Rouged.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Ernest Long, chief engineer of the steamer Rose City, was under arrest here today, charged with wearing women's clothes in public and carrying concealed weapons.

He was arrested last night while walking with his wife.

Police described Long as being dressed in a fashionable gown, with short skirt, spiderweb stockings, snappy spring hat, his cheeks rouged and dangled a handbag in his hand.

Mrs. Long told officers that for seven years her husband had made a practice of going out attired as a woman. She said his wardrobe contained only one suit of men's clothing.

Imports of blackstrap molasses last year total 170,000,000 gallons, 60 per cent of which was used in the manufacture of alcohol.

PIEDMONT 'ROW' NEW PLACE FOR COLLEGE DANCES

BERKELEY, March 21.—Channing way, scene of the annual "sorority derby" and of the benefit college dances, has been replaced by a new "row." For many years, because a majority of the sororities have been located on the way, many of the social affairs of the university have centered there. The traditional "derby," which is held each year on the morning after bids of membership are sent out by the Greek letter organizations.

But the traditions must either disappear or move forward with the progress of the sororities, according to C. L. Fee, chairman of the student body. Piedmont "row" has succeeded Channing way as the center of the Greek societies, and future dances will be held in the newer houses on the avenue. The new grouping of chapter houses is not as exclusively feminine as was Channing way, but the collegians point out that the new street will be the location for all societies. The student union dance, which will be held next week, will take place in the houses on the new "row."

The Officers' Reserve Corps of the United States army has two major-generals and seventeen brigadier-generals, all of whom served during the World war.

FASHIONS SHOWN BY SOROPTIMISTS

A fashion show introducing the Easter styles in lingerie, corsets, gowns for house, street and sports wear, coats, furs, hats and hair arrangement, was put on by members of the Soroptimist Club at the regular luncheon at Hotel Oakland yesterday. The business and professional women acted as their own models.

The new concepts in feminine wearing apparel were presented in the form of a cabaret, for the entertainment of 200 guests. Three young women who acted as living corset models were the hit of the afternoon, displaying the garments in combinations of pink, lavender and black. The latest uses to which bathik may be put, new adaptation of hemstitching for outer and under garments, and summer garments for children were included among the features.

Mrs. Blanche Rollar was chairman of the day. She was assisted by Mrs. Sylvia Ward, Mrs. Etta Herrlein, Miss Jane Filppen, Mrs. Ettie E. McCall, Mrs. Edna Sugden, Mrs. Undine Murdock, Mrs. Fanny Brake, Mrs. Ruth L. Boyd, Mrs. Anna Thrie. A program of song was presented by Mrs. Erma Randolph. Miss Myrtle Lent presided at the piano.

GLEE CLUB PLANS LAST ROAD SHOWS

BERKELEY, March 21.—Presenting a road show full of college "pep" and enthusiasm, the University of California Glee club will make its farewell appearances before sailing on its Oriental tour at Harmon gymnasium on Friday evening, March 31, and on Saturday evening, April 1, in the Oakland Auditorium theater.

On May 13 twenty-two of the glee club men will sail for Honolulu, China, Japan, Korea, the Philippines and other Oriental countries, through which they will tour for three months.

New songs will characterize the ensembles on the local programs, with an intermingling of some of the old favorites in the way of encores. One hundred voices will harmonize in the club numbers.

There will also be many feature numbers, including a large jazz cut-lego orchestra, grouped in an unusual manner, a "double" song and dance act by Grivin and Hines, a tenor solo by Jennings Pierce, a double character sketch in costume by Cole and Taylor, a "sex" duet by Hilliker and Listen, a piano solo by Jack King, quartets, and a Scotch act by R. H. Rathbun.

BARTLETT AIDS OWN-YOUR-OWN HOME CAMPAIGN

BERKELEY, March 21.—Berk-eleyans today were called upon to observe "Own Your Own Home and Build Now Week," in a proclamation issued by Mayor Louis Bartlett. The proclamation follows closely on one issued by Governor William D. Stephens. It follows, in part:

"I take this opportunity to urge upon our own community hearty co-operation to our fullest extent through our local realty board, chamber of commerce, financial, industrial, building and housing organizations, and all civic, religious, fraternal, social and other bodies to make this grand state-wide campaign a complete success."

"Our community is in need of more homes. The shortage in housing is acute. Investment of savings in home-building will be a great stimulus to local industry and trade. Let us then make the coming week one of the greatest in our local history, that we may report to the people at large in the state of California that our fair city of Berkeley has done its bit in providing needed homes to meet the ever-increasing demand by home-seekers for residence property in California."

Acton, London's latest borough, made a profit of $500 last year on dances in the local baths.

JOFFRE WILL BE OAKLAND'S HONOR GUEST APRIL 6

Noted French Leader to Visit Bay District En Route Home From Japan.

Elaborate plans are being made today for the reception of Field Marshal Joseph Jacques Joffre, former commander-in-chief of the French armies and "Hero of the Marne," who will arrive in Oakland on the morning of April 6 from Portland, Ore. The marshal is scheduled to arrive here at 8 o'clock and spend two hours in the Eastbay district before crossing to San Francisco. Joffre is en route to France from Japan.

Word that the marshal would be the guest of Oakland was received in the city last night, and members of the Alliance Francaise of the University of California and ex-service men's organizations immediately began making plans to welcome him.

Upon the arrival of his special train at the Sixth street depot, Marshal Joffre will be met by automobiles containing members of the alliance and prominent city and county officials. He will be taken to the University of California, where he will be driven through the campus. A brief reception at the Campanile esplanade is being considered. Marshal Joffre and his party will then be escorted to the mole, whence a special boat will transport them to San Francisco.

The French war veteran will spend only one night in San Francisco. His reception there will be under the supervision of a committee named today by Mayor James Rolph Jr., which will arrange for the general committee as appointed by the Military Order of the World War, which is composed of former officers who served in the late war, has for its head Captain Frank MacGraw, chairman. Vice-chairmen are Majors H. E. Waldenfeld and Captain Milton H. Epstein.

Marshal Joffre is due at Victoria, March 28. He will reach Seattle March 31 and will be in Portland April 3.

SHOWMAN ROBS HOMES TO KEEP TROUPE GOING

NEW YORK, March 21.—An ambition to be a successful showman caused Miles Boucher, 20, to become an able but careless burglar.

Last night he was curled on a wooden bench in an uptown station house cell and the pride of his life—"Boucher's Burlesque Players"—were stranded somewhere inland.

Boucher told the police that traveling expenses of his burlesque were rather high, that their earnings did not meet them and that rather than let the show "flop," he decided to resort to theft.

It was fascinating, he declared, to see one's name in glaring colored letters on the bill boards. And so he had committed more burglaries than he could enumerate.

Caught in a fashionable Park avenue apartment house last night, Boucher went today for an automobile ride with detectives through the districts of Manhattan, where the more wealthy folk reside, and pointed out scenes of his recent operations.

Police men in St. Louis are the arbiters of women's fashions and decide on decency of low necks and short skirts.

WOMAN SUCCEEDS AS CONTRACTOR

PITTSBURGH, March 25.—When Nora O'Connor's husband died, leaving her four children and a big contracting business, did she lie down and "quit?"

"No sir,"—take her own words for it—"I just went out on the building job my husband had started and told the men there that hereafter I was 'The Boss.'"

"I finally convinced them that I was sincere in taking up Jim's work," but the hardest thing was for my children to overcome the little bit of ridicule thrown at me for doing a 'man's job.'"

This tall, spare Irish woman is as proud of her big steam shovel and her twenty teams of horses as many of her neighbors in fashionable Squirrel Hill are of their limousines. In her rough skirt and blouse and stout shoes, Mrs. O'Connor superintends every bit of work herself. She is a foe of the profligate landlord, and has announced her intention to construct a score of little houses in the early summer.

Information and Statistics to Aid Buying and Selling

Plans for the establishment of a department whose members of the Keweenaw Club will furnish information and statistics were announced yesterday by Harold Kelloog, manager of the club, who delivered the principal address at the Keweenaw Club's annual meeting. Kelloog spoke on "On the Way to the Future," and stressed the importance of education. He called attention to the fact that the Keweenaw Club must change his methods of buying and selling because of his operations on a declining market.

Those who have established a library here have obtained where business men and fishermen would need in the future. In the meantime, the Keweenaw Club will establish a temporary bureau for this purpose.

Kelloog told the members of the club that experience is the best teacher, and urged study as a means of learning. He also stressed the importance of the Keweenaw Club's annual business.

Kelloog outlined plans for participation in the opening day of baseball in June. The club will be represented by fifty members, and will be in line with the San Francisco Giants for the opening of the season on April 8.

For captives to follow, a particular prince was the interesting spectator when 24 wild inhabitants of the Keweenaw Island were driven into an enclosure to be fettered.

It was a heavy task which the Keweenaw system, the usual method followed in this part of the world, is driven into an enclosure about 400 yards in diameter. There, surrounded by ten foot fence, the animals can be kept indefinitely. There are lights on the outside to prevent them from crossing the fence. Finally the herd is driven into a small enclosure, only 40 feet wide, where they are fettered.

After the operation, from the time the herd is first sighted and tracked until it is finally imprisoned, it takes about 10 days.

The wild herd of 28 included bullocks, cows and calves. The herd was a heavy task which gave force resistance to capture. Two of the animals were killed by the hunters, and these were still wearing parts of the Keweenaw system. The animals escaped. These also gave considerable trouble. When the captives had been driven a force of men were ordered to picket in the forest.

SOVIETS BLAMED FOR WIDESPREAD RUSS FAMINES

American Relief Worker Holds Government Responsible for Conditions.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The Russian government was charged with a large share of responsibility for present famine conditions in Russia in a statement made yesterday to the Senate agricultural committee, which is considering further Russian relief, by Frank Connes, a member of an American Russian relief commission.

"When it is claimed that the famine conditions are due to drought it is not so," said Connes, who accompanied Captain Paxton Hibben and other relief commissioners through the Russian famine district last summer. "The government demanded and the peasants cheerfully gave 60 per cent of all products of the farm. Then the government came by force and took the remaining 40 per cent. Peasants told me time and time again that had the government not taken this 40 per cent many of these (famine) conditions need not have happened."

Connes declared more American relief was necessary and estimated the additional sum necessary at $100,000,000.

Activities of WOMEN

Post-Lenten Parties for Bride-Elect

Miss Laura Lindsay Miller, fiancée of John Knox of Berkeley, will be the motif for a number of post-Lenten affairs given on either side of the bay. One of the first is that for which Miss Newell Bull, of San Francisco, has sent out invitations, this being in the nature of a bridge tea at her home across the bay. A little later on Miss Janet Knox, future sister-in-law of Miss Miller, will give a tea when she will entertain for Miss Miller and Miss Lina Newman, a cousin of Miss Knox, who is now at Coronado Beach. En route north the travelers will stop in Los Angeles and at Atascadero before arriving in Berkeley to be the guests of their kinsfolk, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Knox, of Benvenue avenue.

Mrs. Monroe Greenwood is also planning to entertain for Miss Miller, and cards will be received soon after Easter.

MISS RUTH McLURE, who is chairman of the speakers' bureau for the series of silver teas to be given in the interest of the college woman's scholarship fund.

Dr. and Mrs. Roderic O'Connor are to be hosts at an informal dinner at their home tomorrow evening for Miss Avery Ransom and her betrothed, William Grant, of San Francisco. Saturday evening Miss Alice Griffiths, aunt of the bride-elect, will give a birthday dinner at her home across the bay with her nephew and his fiancée as the honor guests.

BETROTHAL IS TOLD AT TEA.

Saturday afternoon the engagement of Miss Louise Brickell Valdon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome B. Valdon of Alameda, and Arthur Pym Rhodes of San Francisco, was announced at an afternoon tea given by Miss Avalene Eaton at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. V. Glover, on Shattuck avenue, Berkeley. The guests of honor were Miss Miriam Trowbridge and Miss Elvira Coburn, both brides-elect.

Mrs. Harry Durbrow sailed on the Venezuela last week for New York, where she will be joined by Mrs. Joseph Marks and Miss Helen Holman, who will accompany the young matron to Europe. About a year will be passed in a leisurely tour of Italy and southern France. Before her departure Mrs. Durbrow was entertained informally by friends from both sides of the bay.

The engagement of Miss Hazel Parkinson, a sophomore at the University of California, and Dr. William Merle Noble of San Francisco, has been announced. She is the daughter of Mrs. George M. Parkinson of Berkeley. Dr. Noble was graduated from the University of Iowa. The wedding is planned for the fall.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR GRANDSON.

A St. Patrick's party was given by Mrs. Herbert C. Coward of Grand avenue recently, celebrating the third birthday of the hostess' grandson, Herbert Coward Deacon, son of Mrs. Andrew Gordon Deacon (Nattie Coward). St. Patrick's appointments were carried out in the decorations. Mrs. Coward was assisted by Mrs. Andrew G. Deacon, Mrs. J. S. Brooker and Miss Phyllis Coward. Master Robert Shrader rendered a piano solo. The little guests were Mary Lou McKoy, Jack Couch, Jean Manuel, Ernest Jackson, Mary Belle Spivey, George Bernard Spivey Jr., Billie Heider, Mary Louise Sheppard, Robert Palmer, Betty De Brookes, Eleanor Nevins, Gertrude Heifron, Louise Kennedy, Teddy and Paul Lerch.

In the spring Mrs. Francis Shook expects to leave for Washington, D. C., where she will be the guest of her father, General David Stuart Gordon, U. S. A.

Mrs. George Reynolds O'Connor will entertain the afternoon of March 29 at the John Heidt home in Alameda for a number of close friends.

FASTA Y MATRON.

A romance which had its inception aboard an ocean liner en route to Europe two years ago culminated in the marriage of Mrs. Jessica Davis Nahl and William Van Wyck, March 14, in Paris. Following the meeting of the couple aboard ship, Van Wyck coached Mrs. Nahl in a number of plays. Mrs. Van Wyck went abroad two years ago to study art in Italy and France. She placed her three children in school.

The cablegram announcing the wedding was received by the brother of the bride, George Davis, of Berkeley.

Mrs. Henry F. Grady will entertain 100 guests at tea the afternoon of April 8 at her home on Leroy avenue, Berkeley. Since coming north to make her home she has been the incentive for many smart social affairs. Assisting Mrs. Grady to receive will be Mrs. Louis Pape, Mrs. Louis Carl, Mrs. Mira Macley and Mrs. Ira Cross. Pouring will be Mrs. Carl Pichin, Mrs. Frederick Porter, Mrs. Thomas Cook, and the Misses Jane Goodrich and Janet Macley will assist in serving.

Charities Ask Milk for Oakland Children

By EDNA B. KINARD.

The Associated Charities is facing a critical situation. The children's department, through Dr. Susan Fenton, is sending out an S. O. S. pleading with individuals and organized groups of men and women to come and help them provide a pint of milk daily for the upkeep of 200 babies for whom it is responsible. Already some of the clubs have registered in the emergency call and offered to help out in the necessary nutrition work. As rapidly as possible other organizations are being appealed to. In the meantime a crisis is facing the charity society.

Heretofore the Scottish Rite bodies have contributed $500 monthly to the milk bills of the children's department. The fund enabled the officers to supplement the state and county aid of $17.50 paid monthly to foster mothers, with a pint of milk daily. More than 600 boys and girls were thus supplied. Recently the Scottish Rite bodies found themselves unable to continue this large piece of philanthropy. The first step in meeting the crisis has been reducing the supply of daily milk to the elder children and making a desperate effort to continue it to the babies and younger wards.

With an appeal to public-spirited men and women and to various organizations to assist in making up the necessary milk and Dr. Fenton and her committee are working upon plans which it is hoped will guarantee a continuance of the nutrition program.

Saturday will be a strenuous day for the literary colony of the East-bay cities as represented in the California Writers' Club, the Young Woman's Christian Association building, accommodating the series of programs.

W. C. Dennis, scenario writer, will be the speaker before the initial meeting of the afternoon, when, at 2 o'clock, the men and women affiliated with the dramatic section assemble in a monthly conference. An hour later members of the fiction section will hear an address by Philip Fisher Jr.

With Harry A. Frank, author of "A Vagabond Journey Around the World," the guest of honor, a dinner is scheduled for the evening. Sharing with the local writers as hosts will be the Michigan Alumni Association.

Charles S. Keeler, Berkeley poet and secretary of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce, has been re-elected president of the California Writers' Club with Mrs. Esther Darling, vice-president. Other officers are: James C. Bennett, treasurer; Mrs. James C. Bennett, secretary; directors, William C. Carruth, Mrs. George Barnes Bird, Dr. Southard, Leo S. Robinson, Mrs. Wharton, Miss Elizabeth Everett.

The newly-elected board of directors of the Business and Professional Woman's Club will be guests of honor at a reception which is announced in the clubrooms, 1741 Broadway, Thursday evening. Mrs. Gladys Barndollar is launching a second year as executive of the important organization, whose membership is upward of 200.

The Thursday luncheon and program will be omitted this week in favor of the reception. Announcement. Daily luncheons are being served to the members who drop in at the attractive headquarters, however.

The Cornell University Women's Club of the Bay Cities of California is among the interesting academic groups hereabouts, including in its personnel not only graduates of the university, but those women who at any time have been registered as students. A March reunion of the club took the members to San Francisco, where Miss Gail Laughlin presided as luncheon hostess.

The second conference of the International Federation of University Women is called in Paris, from July 15 to July 18, commanding a wide attention from the university women of this country. Under the direction of the Bureau of University Travel many interesting tours are being arranged in connection with the notable meeting.

The American Association of University Women will hold the thirty-seventh general meeting in Kansas City April 5-8, attracting a number of delegates from the Pacific coast.

When Mrs. Mary Gilbert, president of Rockridge Women's Club, celebrated the anniversary of her birth on Friday, she thought she had kept a secret. Later, however, she found that she was the guest of honor at a charming luncheon spread in the clubhouse in Golden Gate park, where a birthday cake lighted with sufficient number of candles and supported with pretty remembrances was featured. The history and landmarks section made a little journey to Mission Dolores and the Golden Gate museum, breaking the day with the luncheon complementing their leader, Mrs. W. E. Nevills, curator, acted as toastmistress. The following toasts were offered: "Our President," Mrs. L. C. Stockford; "Birthdays, Past and Present," Mrs. George Kieberger; "A Friend," Mrs. B. B. Sweet. Twenty-nine Rockridge women enjoyed the day.

MICHIGAN BIRDS ARE THREATENED BY HUGE STORM

Effort Made to Save Game That Nearly Perished in Big Blizzard.

DETROIT, March 21.—The humanitarian impulses of the people of Michigan have never been better exemplified than during the recent storm, when the wild animal life of the state was threatened with extinction by the sleet and ice that covered the grounds for days. Despite the heroic measures taken by the people of the northern part of the state, the storm was so severe that it is feared that on the western side years will be required to replace birds and beasts lost and starved. Talk is already being heard of asking the next legislature to tighten the game laws for a long number of years to avert the passing of the birds altogether. The stories of the hardships voluntarily shouldered by the citizens of northern Michigan in order that their friends of the air and the forests might defeat the forces of nature that sought to stamp them out are just beginning to come into Detroit. Countless instances are recorded of the self-sacrifice of these northern Michigan folks who forgot their own comforts to minister to that usually receive but scant attention. Although farmers and townspeople alike rallied to the call and placed food where it could be reached quickly by the suffering inhabitants of the woods, the task was so great and the need so urgent that thousands of birds and animals are known to have died of starvation and cold. Hundreds of dead partridges and small animals have been found in the Petoskey district. Near Cadillac the number of birds that starved was even greater, according to reports, because birds found buds of bushes and trees completely coated with ice.

Three Children Die As Fire Burns Home

ELDORADO, Ark., March 21.—Three children were burned to death in their home here last night when a fire started from a broken gas pipe. They are Edith, Berne and Jessie. Their mother and two brothers were badly burned. Two other children escaped. The family had been quarantined on account of measles.

Invalid Wife of Police Head Robbed

PEORIA, Ill., March 21.—Mrs. Charles Wilson, invalid wife of chief of city detectives, was bound, gagged and robbed of $1,000 here today by two robbers. Revenge for Chief Wilson's activities against thieves is believed the motive for the attack. Mrs. Wilson begged for her life and was told to keep silent or she would be killed.

ALIENS' POORHOUSE. SPokane, Wash., March 21.—Ninety per cent of the inmates of the Spokane poor farm are not citizens of the United States. It is shown in the latest report of Superintendent J. S. McCormick, who asserts the ratio of aliens to Americans has been practically the same ever since he took charge of the farm.

WORN OUT AFTER SHE COOKED A MEAL

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Read the Result

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I suffered for a year with nervous troubles and irregularities before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached all the time and I was unfit for housework. I was worn out after I cooked a meal, and was unable to do my washing. My girl friends and my sister told me if I would take your Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills I would be relieved. After taking the first bottle I felt better, and neglected it awhile, but found I could not do my work until I was stronger. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and now I am the mother of a 19-months old boy. He is fat and healthy and I am sure I could never have carried him if it had not been for your medicine. I recommend your medicine to all women although I am young to be advising some one older." Mrs. CHAS. PETROFF, 218 W. Liberty St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Children's Hospital Is Largest in World
CONSTANTINOPLE, March 21.—A children's hospital said to be the largest in the world has just been opened at Alexandropol, in the Southern Caucasus. It is under the direction of Dr. R. T. Uhle, of Pittsburgh, Mass., and has been financed entirely with funds sent from America by the Near East Relief. The hospital at present has 2700 beds, housed in 40 wards, but when fully completed next May it will hold 6000 beds. The child patients are drawn from six Russian, Armenian and Greek provinces occupying an area larger than New England and are all suffering from trachoma, a malignant eye disease which has become the scourge of child life in this part of the world.

Bishop Locke, Wife Sail for Australia
MANILA, P. I., March 21.—Bishop Edward Locke of the Methodist Episcopal church, in charge of church work in the Philippine Islands, accompanied by Mrs. Locke, have left for Australia. After spending three months in Australia they will return to the United States for several months and return to Manila late this year. Bishop Locke goes to New Zealand as a fraternal delegate from the Methodist Episcopal church of America to the annual meeting of the Wesleyan Methodist church of New Zealand. After several months in New York Bishop Locke will go to Los Angeles, Calif., where he will dedicate the new church building for which he assisted in raising funds while pastor in that city.

MEMORIAL FOR INITIAL SWINE PEDIGREE, PLAN
BLUE BALL, O., March 21.—A monument is to be erected here to commemorate the beginning of the practice of writing pedigrees for hogs. The first such pedigrees, oldest records show, were written in 1875 for Poland China hogs on the farm owned here by W. C. Hankinson. Part of the necessary funds for the monument have been raised by the Ohio State Poland China Breeders Association, and the Hankinson estate, which still owns the farm, has consented to the erection of the monument on the property. The monument is to be dedicated in August. Stockton, a member of the board of trustees of the Stockton hospital,

Geraldine's

Listen World! WHADDA YO'

for men. But they do make me

But whose fault is it and how

I am not discussing or answering the following letter. It came in answer to the plea of A. S. L. for "material," logical reasons for not able she asked "Why should I stay?" The answers that came in were splendid. They were brave letters, many of them from men and women living under the same cloud of uncertainty, but none gave a hint of reason for not "giving the game of life to its finish."

The writer of this letter says there is generosity in some suicides. I am letting you folks answer.

Dear Geraldine:

Your answer to your hopeless correspondent, "A. S. L.," has probably left nothing unsaid or that can be said under the circumstances.

Do you get my drift, Frenchy? If you were to mix a little with the kind of fellow you would to think, and really, French those dames with the rolled down socks nearly always are the best dancers and good sports. We have been to quite a few dances and find that there are not as bad the darkness, "the good, good darkness." How it appeals to us, and how difficult to

I do not know what I would do in the circumstances of "A. S. L." I

From a possible hopeless and utter defeat in the battle of life, has long been a solace to me. Suicide is not per se evidence of either courage or cowardice. The man who stood on a ledge of a tall building, with no possibility of escape, and was compelled to accept one, shot himself. Compelled to accept one of two evils he chose the lesser. May I use an opiate to avoid pain? If so, may I not use more drastic measures? Where is the point of

to get out of those skirts just as you are in Geraldine's column and will send our names and address to Geraldine.

THE HEAVENLY TWINS.
Keep your address, boys, dear. I'll be no party to any Heavenly Grace. (Did you ever hike all the way to the wonderful rocks beyond the Pacific Grove and roam with the hermits and make the sea urchins go by turns over in your hand?)

Take your medicine. Friends

we are assured that motion is always the line of least resistance or greatest traction." There is no effect without a cause and the cause is sufficient to produce the effect, whether it be the motions "of hinged wings, the fall of a leaf or a molecule, and the law holds equally in the realm of mind as it does in matter. Nature is the supreme autocrat. She permits no anarchy in her domain. Nothing in the universe escapes her laws for a single instant.

We reach certain conclusions on the grounds of a general average, but each individual act must be judged in the light of its own surroundings. I think suicide justifiable, so we shrink no obligation, voluntarily assumed, and reasonably possible for us to discharge and when all the known factors in a hopeless and intolerable condition reduce to this answer: It is best. It is easy to imagine circumstances in which one could hand my dearest friend a pistol for that purpose, and of those towns, but those places, or those you received from San Leandro.

This is the first time I have ever written for your column, but it is too much to overlook the remarks of Frenchy. You said "Ring off the fire department, someone's having a fit." Fit is right, but should say "Send for an alienist," also an optician to treat her eyes properly.

Granted that there are such "men" as Frenchy speaks of, but kind of girl is she to associate with imitations, for she will never find the real ones at any distance halls.

Evidently she has never seen any of the world's one hundred million men of that type, or she would never make such assertions.

J. W. J. would suggest that she climb ily "an unworthy evasion." Take this case: A loving husband and wife, two small children. The husband feeble, hopelessly suffering mother and nurse supporting the family with her needle. He left this note: "My dear, the load is too great. You are rapidly sinking under it. Unceasingly may I lay beside me in the same grave and leave our children double orphans. I reluctantly leave you. Pray accept it as my last act of love and duty toward you and our babies."

Tell A. S. L. not to act hastily. Doctors are not the writer of this note, pronounced incurable by the best medical authority in San Francisco. As Mark Twain said, after reading a report of his own death, the case was greatly exaggerated. My most sincere wish is that it may prove the same with her.

FAIRVIEW.

We're surely a BIG family. Here comes a letter from Monterey. Oh, Frenchy, you brought it all on yourself.

Dear Frenchy:

This is the first time that we have gone so far as to take the interest in this column that we are now showing.

We are the modern young men that seem to get your Irish up, which would turn Frenchy's hair white with horror—seen men in their worst and their best—when they see them when their whole universe had crashed at their feet, yet rise from the ashes with a song of their lips.

If Frenchy would only get rid of those mental cobwebs of ingratitude, he would need to remark that "birds of a feather flock together," leaving your readers to wonder, and include her as one of those birds she rails against. "man is known by the company he keeps," but is evidently forgotten by Frenchy.

If she will look in the right place I know she will find thousands of "real men."

Keep up the good work, friends Geraldine, and you can always count on the good wishes of

THE MARKSMAN.

I. WORST—I will be glad to answer you privately if you so desire.

Plesiosaurian Hunt To Begin Thursday

BUENOS AIRES, March 21.—The expedition which is to search for the plesiosaurian monster reported to have been seen in an Andean lake is to start for Patagonia Thursday. A number of newspaper correspondents will accompany the party.

L. A. Bandits Get $400 In Daylight Robbery

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 21.—Auto mobile bandits in a daylight holdup yesterday obtained $400, the payroll of the Pacific Knitting Mills company, from F. Blodgett, cashier of the concern, according to a report made to the police. The robbery occurred at Boyd and Fourth streets.

San Francisco News

S. F. to Vote on Beer and Wines

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The Board of Supervisors yesterday instructed the clerk of the board to prepare an ordinance to go on the November ballot in the form of a petition to Congress asking for a modification of the Volstead act to permit the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer for beverage purposes.

The action was taken on a resolution offered by Supervisor J. Emmet Hayden, and was carried, nine to eight. Supervisors James B. McSheehy being absent. Those voting for the resolution were Supervisors Bath, Colman, Hayden, Hynes, McGregor, McLeran, Robb, Rossi, Scott; those against, Supervisor Deasy, Morgan, Mulvihill, Powers, Schmitz, Shannon, Welch, Wetmore.

All of the supervisors previously expressed themselves in favor of light wines, but voted against the resolution because, they said, they did not think the supervisors had the right to speak officially for all the people of San Francisco on what is an individual opinion.

Trickery Charged by Bride in Wedding

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—In a third of a series of legal actions following the marriage of John MacFarlane to the girl he chose to be his life mate, Mrs. MacFarlane, charged yesterday that she became MacFarlane's bride through "trickery and misrepresentation and asked for an annulment.

The two other suits in the controversy were brought by MacFarlane, one a suit for divorce in which he named Harry Ritchie, local business man, as co-respondent. The second was a suit for $10,000 against Ritchie for alienation of affections. Mrs. MacFarlane, states that in her complaint Ritchie was her suitor until last November, when she met MacFarlane. She said MacFarlane told her Ritchie did not intend to marry her. She was pledged with Ritchie, she states, and taken to San Jose where she married MacFarlane while under the influence of liquor.

$10,000,000, Buildings For Market Street

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Plans for the erection of ten buildings on Market street near Eighth at a cost of $10,000,000 were outlined yesterday by Arthur P. Rousseau, real estate operator. The announcement followed the purchase of the McCreary Estate company's property at a cost of $1,500,000.

Laborer Drops Dead On Bay Ferry Boat

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—While on his way to Oakland to work, Peter Hansen, a mechanic, living at the Dewey House, dropped dead on the Creek Route ferry Enclinal today. Hansen boarded the ferry at 7 o'clock and a few moments later was found in a dying condition in the cabin of the ferryboat. Hansen from the Harbor Emergency hospital arrived with an ambulance he was dead.

LAND SETTLEMENT TALK. SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—George Kreutzer will speak on "Land Settlement in Australia," before the Commonwealth Club of California sub-committee on land settlement, which will meet Thursday in the rooms of the Harbor Commission. Professor Elwood Mead will speak on land settlement in other countries.

Trout Out of Season Cost Angler $25

SAUSALITO, March 21.—Two trout caught out of season cost Charles W. Arp, San Francisco sportsman, $25 yesterday, when he appeared before Justice of the Peace Paul Helmers and paid his fine. The trout were discovered in Arp's machine by Game Warden W. B. Selmer of Marin County who was crossing on the ferryboat from San Rafael to Richmond. Arp admitted his guilt and made no comment.

Woman Steps From Auto, Hit by Car

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Mrs. Sarah Murray of 744 McAllister street was injured early today when she stepped in the path of a street car at McAllister and Gough streets. Mrs. Murray was driving in an automobile with A. Fawcett, who lives at the same address. She alighted from the machine and stepped in front of the car, which hurled her 15 feet to the sidewalk. She suffered two fractured ribs, severe bruises and lacerations, and possible internal injuries. After treatment at the Central Emergency hospital, she was removed to Franklin hospital.

Legion Members Are Guests at Luncheon

Members of Oakland Post No. 5, American Legion, were luncheon guests yesterday at the factory of the Shredded Wheat company. The Legionnaires were the guests of the company and were served the regular luncheon provided for the factory employees. Bert L. Campbell, superintendent of the plant, gave the Legion men a short talk, describing the process of manufacture of the product of the plant, and conducted them through the place on a tour of inspection. Harold Weber, luncheon committee chairman, appointed the following members to supervise the arrangements for the three luncheons: Dr. Francis Blesin, E. K. Sturgis, and Roy Barney. Arrangements have been completed by Jean Hadley for the smoker to be held at the Legion club rooms, Twelfth and Harrison streets, tonight. A special program and a "free feed" are to be features of the evening.

Hawthorne School To Present Play

"The Enchanted Garden," an outdoor play, will be presented as a playground matinee at the Hawthorne school on Friday. The cast of children will number: Sweet Peas—Harriet Jordan, Hedwig Petersen, Francine Baker, Muriel Suhl, Evelyn Flanagan, Florence Volkman, Violet—Phoebe Hays, Poppy—Helen Anderson, Pansy—Verna Stroheim, Daffodil—Evelyn Olson, Margaret—Jeanette Barber, Iris—Mae Sullivan, Dorothy Durant, Lily—Madeleine Bunch, Wild Rose—Velda Lux, Prince Butterfly—Minnie Newvohner, Algonette—Florence Dow, Will-o-the-Wisp—Ethel Robinson, Bumble Bee—Beatrice Campbell, Queen of Hearts—Nellie Bennett. Thirty thousand persons are injured or killed each year in the United States.

Soldier Invalids To Be Entertained

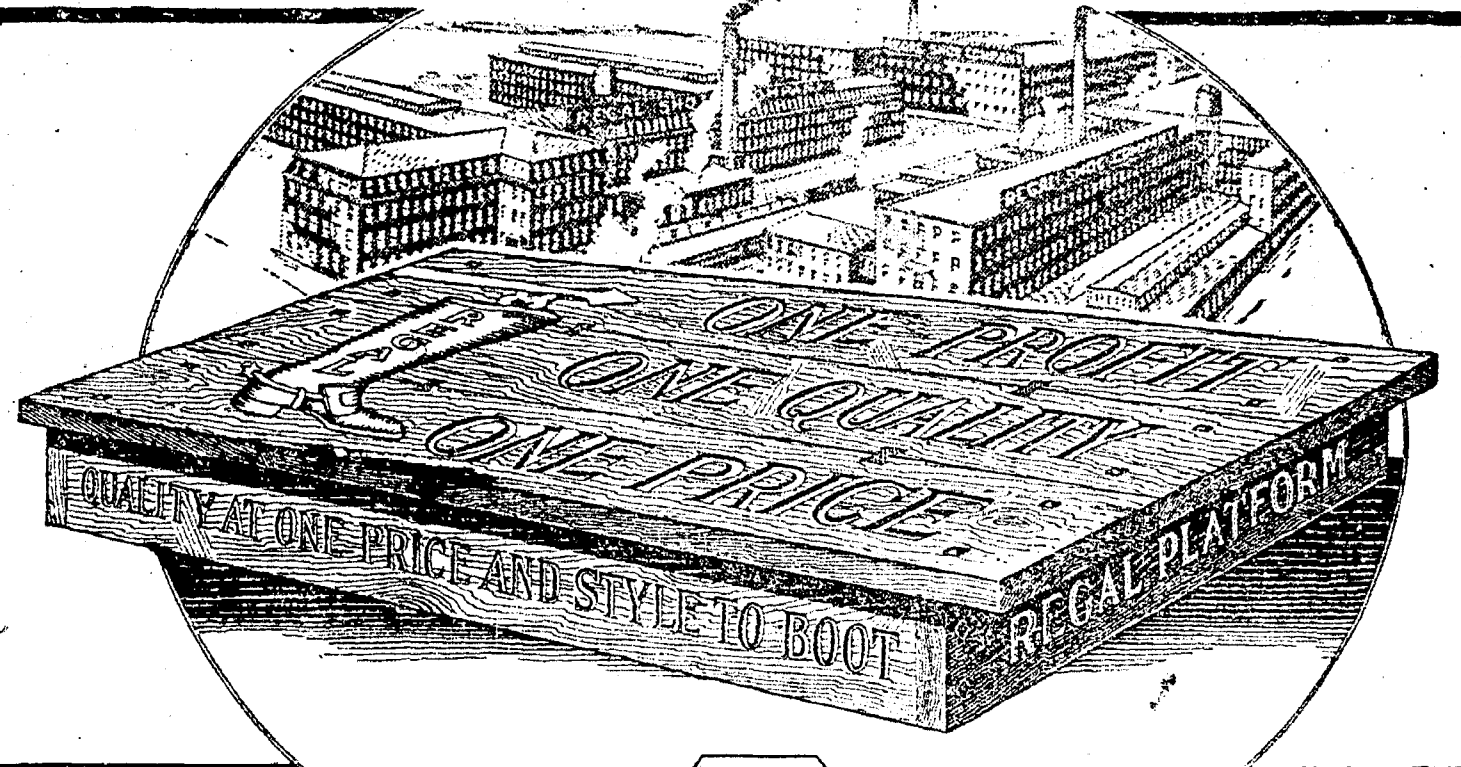

SAN JOSE, March 21.—Plans to provide entertainment for the convalescing soldiers and other ex-service men confined at the government hospital at Palo Alto are to be made here today at a scheduled meeting of the executive board of the National League for Women's Service, local branch. The meeting was scheduled for the Chamber of Commerce headquarters and officials said that an extensive program would be mapped out. Local women have been most active in supplying the unfortunate ex-service men with proper entertainment and their work has been greatly appreciated. Weekly entertainments have been given, music predominating, while the women have also worked arduously in securing games, cards and reading matter of all kinds for the individual entertainment of the wounded and sick.

Four Out of Five Wait Too Long—

Are your gums tender—do they ever bleed when you brush your teeth?

If so—see your dentist at once and start using Forhan's For the Gums. You have the first symptoms of Pyorrhea.

Incredible as it seems, four people out of every five past the age of forty, and thousands younger, have Pyorrhea.

If neglected Pyorrhea soon runs its deadly course. It loosens teeth until they drop out or must be pulled, and it causes those deadly pus pockets to which scientists now attribute so much serious illness.

If you use Forhan's For the Gums consistently, and use it in time, you can prevent Pyorrhea or arrest its course.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's twice each day: It will keep your teeth and gums in a clean healthy condition.

Don't delay longer. Four out of five fall victims to Pyorrhea because they waited too long. 35c and 60c tubes, at your druggist's.

How To Avoid INFLUENZA
Nothing you can do will so effectively protect you against the Influenza or Gripe epidemic as keeping your organs of digestion and elimination active and your system free from poisonous accumulations. Doctors and health authorities everywhere are warning people of the danger of constipation, and advising, and urging everyone, to see that the bowels and other eliminative organs act freely and regularly. Ordinary laxatives, purges and cathartics, salts, oils, calomel and the like, are good enough to clean out the system, but do not strengthen the weakened organs; they do not build up vitality. Why don't you begin right today to overcome constipation and get your system in such shape that you can feel reasonably sure of resisting disease. You can do so if you will just get a 25c. box of Nature's Remedy (N.R. Tablets) and take one each night for 10 days. N.R. Tablets do much more than merely cause pleasant, easy bowel action. This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as eliminative organs, promotes good digestion, causes the body to get the nourishment from all the food you eat, gives you a good, hearty appetite, strengthens the liver, overcomes biliousness, regulates kidney and bowel action and gives the whole body a thorough cleaning out. This accomplished you will not have to take medicine every day. An occasional N.R. Tablet will keep your body in condition and you can always feel your best. Bold and recommended by druggists.

JEWELRY ROBBERY IS BLOCKED BY TRACK WORKERS

Efforts of Gem Bandits in S. F. Frustrated by Crew at Work on Street.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—A bold attempt to raid the show windows of the Albert W. Samuels company, jewelers, at one of the busiest corners of San Francisco, was made at 3 o'clock this morning. Although the three men concerned obtained a small amount of loot they narrowly escaped capture at the hands of a gang of trackmen of the Market Street Railway company, who intercepted one of them before he had an opportunity to obtain more loot.

Republicans Elect Maine Congressman

AUGUSTA, Me., March 21.—The Republicans retained control of the Third Maine congressional district in a special election yesterday to fill the unexpired term of John A. Peters, but by a margin greatly reduced from that received by Peters in 1920. John E. Nelson, Republican, was elected over Ernest L. McLean, Democrat, by a majority of 5,642.

LADY ASTOR HAS HER SAY ABOUT HOUSE SERVANTS

LONDON, March 21.—"I admit there are many women among the working classes of this country incapable of filling a domestic job," is a statement made by Lady Astor, which brings a flock of denials and upbraids in her trail. But the little lady from Virginia is used to them, and what she says goes. Nevertheless her mail-bag for a few weeks looks like being crammed to overflowing with protests from the domestic-loving women of England, and they are legion.

HAYS HAMMOND TO BE SPEAKER AT C. OF C. LUNCHEON

World Famous Mining Engineer to Be Guest of the Oakland Body.

John Hays Hammond, world famous mining engineer, who has helped in making national and international history, will be the speaker at a luncheon to be given by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce on March 31 at the Hotel Oakland. It was announced today by Blanks Everett, secretary of the chamber. Hammond was chief aide to the late Cecil John Rhodes in his great development work in South Africa. He is responsible for the present huge exploitation of the South African gold mines, especially of the immense "reef" deposits on the Witwatersrand. He also aided in planning the present city of Johannesburg, which today is considered "the most American city outside of the United States."

Washington Notes

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The name of Samuel H. Piles of Seattle, Wash., will be sent to the Senate soon for confirmation of American minister to Colombia. It was announced today at the White House. Piles is a former senator from Washington.

President Harding will not take action toward consolidation of government activities in Alaska, involving the proposed transfer of the Alaskan forests to the interior department until he has had an opportunity to personally inspect the northern territory. It was officially stated at the White House this afternoon. President Harding is still hopeful of going to Alaska this summer, although the development of public business will determine whether it will be feasible to make the trip.

Suggestions that the constitution of the United States be changed in order to permit majority ratification of the treaties by the Senate do not meet with President Harding's approval. The President informed call this afternoon that he does not believe the constitution should be changed in this respect and he believes the two-thirds majority necessary to the treaty ratification to be a good rule.

"Little army" advocates in the House triumphed once more today in their fight with administration forces over the appropriation bill reducing the United States army to 115,000 enlisted men.

Hoffman Philip of New York, now minister to Colombia, was named today to be minister to Uruguay.

Nominations sent to the senate today by President Harding included Albert L. Sittler to be United States marshal for the southern district of California, and J. Roy Ward to be United States marshal for the district of Utah.

"Love laughs at locksmiths," and it certainly will laugh at laws. If a couple have made up their minds to be married they will accomplish their marriage somehow.

"There have always been runaway marriages, and there always will be. Often they turn out to be happier marriages than those where the two have kept company for years before marrying."

"What I advocate, then, is not stricter marriage laws but easier divorce laws. In the beginning of civilization, in the days of Moses, a man could divorce his wife on the grounds of incompatibility. In those days, of course, a woman was a mere chattel. Today, when woman is the equal of man, the law of Moses should work both ways. Either a man or a woman should be allowed to divorce the other on the grounds of incompatibility."

"I am convinced that the divorce laws of Nevada are good. There after six months' residence, a divorce can be obtained on the grounds of desertion or non-support or incompatibility."

"Unfortunately, the divorce laws in Reno benefit the rich and not the poor. The poor suffer here, just as they suffer with prohibition. The rich man has his cellar stocked, but the poor man cannot buy even a couple of glasses of beer a week."

"The rich can go to Reno and stay at an expensive hotel for six months, but no poor person can afford to go there to obtain a divorce."

"I am in favor of a uniform divorce law that will bring about divorce on the simple grounds of incompatibility, if for no other reason than for the sake of the children."

"How many children grow up to live useful, happy lives when their parents are continually fighting at home?"

MORE TRAINING FOR CO-ED URGED

Athens, Ohio, March 21.—Fewer trashy novels and motion pictures and more schooling in domestic relations are needed by the college girls today, according to Miss Elsie Hill, chairman of the executive council, National Woman's Party, who addressed co-eds at Ohio University, here.

Miss Hill, who is the daughter of former Congressman Ebenezer Hill, of Connecticut, is a former militant worker for equal suffrage and has a jail and hunger-strike record.

The emotional nature of the college girl today, Miss Hill said, is changed constantly by new influences. She demands novels on divorce and is a veritable sponge for the flattery of men.

S. J. Water Service Is to Be Improved

SAN JOSE, March 21.—Improvements of the water service for this city were announced today by the San Jose Water company. The improvements to be immediately effected at a cost of more than $90,000. This is the largest expenditure by the water company in the line of increasing service in several years.

The principal improvement, officials of the company stated, will be found in the laying of a new 20-inch water main which will run along Bascom avenue to Naglee avenue, thence along Naglee to The Alameda, thence along The Alameda to Asbury, and thence down Asbury street.

Besides this improvement, the company will extend laterals over Chapman and Morse streets, from Hanchett to Morse streets, according to the plans as announced. College Park district is growing so rapidly, it is said, that the water company's system is no longer adequate. The work will be rushed to a speedy conclusion.

MIXES WITH COLT.

LODI, March 21.—After lying in an unconscious condition for five days, David Welgum has regained his senses and will now recover. He was brought to the Mason hospital, having been found by the side of the road with his motorcycle near by. Welgum, who lives near here, clears up a mystery surrounding his accident by announcing that he was on his way home when a colt, browsing by the roadside took fright and dashed into his machine, hurling him to the ground.

Tex Rickard Spends Night in Tombs

NEW YORK, March 21.—Tex Rickard, boxing promoter, was locked up last night in Tombs prison, where he will have to spend all of his nights until his trial on an indictment charging criminal assault on 15-year-old Sarah Schoenfeld ends. The trial started yesterday.

He appeared notably dejected as he was taken across the "bridge of sighs" by two deputy sheriffs. He said before his trial began that he was anxious for it all to be "over with" soon.

Commons to Pass on Parley at Genoa

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. LONDON, March 21.—Lloyd George will ask the opinion of the House of Commons in regard to whether he will attend the Genoa economic conference, Austen Chamberlain, government leader, announced in the House today.

This action will be taken April 3, Chamberlain said. The decision of the House will be the same as a vote of confidence or of no confidence in the government.

An adverse vote would be followed by Lloyd George's resignation.

MISSING GIRL IS BELIEVED SUICIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Belief that Miss Margaret Renk, who disappeared two weeks ago, may have ended her life in San Francisco Bay, was expressed today by police. This theory is based on statements attributed to the girl before her disappearance that she intended to drown herself.

It was learned that on March 7, the day she disappeared she telephoned her employer that she was ill with influenza and would not be able to work. She was to have been married to Al Thoney of Mill Valley.

Twenty-one persons are hurt every minute.

Attempts to Cash Bad Check; Lands in Jail

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—After a sensational chase, following his failure to cash a forged check at the City of Paris Dry Goods company, a man who gave his name as Robert J. Turner is held in the city prison here today.

Turner was captured at Stockton and Market streets yesterday afternoon after he made his escape from the sixth floor of the store building and knocked down John J. Carey, collection manager, who attempted to stop him. Police ascertained that he was registered at the Hotel St. Francis under the name of Frank Nelson.

V.F.W. County Council Plans Theater Party

The first official meeting of the Alameda County Council, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was held Wednesday evening and plans for the coming month adopted.

The council will hold a theater party the latter part of April to replenish the funds of the various posts and auxiliaries, as the work of the organization has been seriously hampered with lack of funds.

In accordance with the plans of the national headquarters of the V. F. W., the council is arranging to obtain the co-operation of all other patriotic, civic and fraternal organizations interested in the Americanization campaign, in arranging suitable ceremonies on April 27. These ceremonies will be held simultaneously by all the V. F. W. posts throughout the United States.

ALAMEDA C. OF C. TO STAGE DRIVE FOR MEMBERSHIP

American City Bureau Will Handle Campaign to Boost City.

ALAMEDA, March 21.—The Alameda Chamber of Commerce is soon to conduct a campaign for membership and funds and to establish itself as a clearing house for the advancement of the city. At a meeting of the directors held in a local restaurant last night, arrangements were made to have the American City Bureau take over the organization and handle the campaign.

J. D. Allen, president and general manager of the western branch of the American City Bureau, explained the aims of his concern and the methods of staging drives for upbuilding chambers of commerce, city organizations and business concerns. Allen and representatives of his organization will meet with a special committee of the chamber of commerce tomorrow night in the office of City Attorney W. J. Locke for the purpose of signing contracts and drawing up the campaign plans.

The chamber committee consists of Locke, H. S. Babue, Ernest Neiss, Hugh Gallagher, George Fox, Carl Strom, president of the chamber, and Charles C. Wilson, secretary.

The campaign will aim to get business men and citizens in the membership of the chamber. A move also will be made to cement the better feelings and bring about close co-operation between the various business sections of the city and to put over a number of big projects at present being urged as matters of public improvement.

Electric Railroad Sued for $10,000

The San Francisco-Sacramento Railroad was made defendant in a $10,000 damage suit today by Frank D. Mullin, residing at the Hotel Oakland and coast representative of an eastern shoe manufacturing concern. Mullin asserts, through his attorneys, Edmund J. Hottel and James C. Walsh, that he received fractures of two ribs and internal injuries when a Sacramento Short Line train ran into his automobile at Shafter and Hudson avenues on February 12. He declared the train was traveling at a speed higher than that prescribed by city ordinance.

Life Term Prisoner Attacks Guard, Slain

SALEM, Ore., March 21.—James Ogle, serving a life term at the state penitentiary, was shot dead this morning by Guard John Davison. Ogle had thrown a rock about the size of a baseball at Davison and made a move as if to catch another.

Ogle was serving a life term for the Claremont Tavern murders near Portland in November, 1919. He had confessed to being the man who shot George Ferring and J. O. Burgess of Pendleton when he, with David Smith and Walter Bannister, also serving life terms, attempted to hold up the tavern.

Antigonish 'Ghost'

MARY ELLEN MACDONALD, the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. MacDonald, who is said to be the "ghost" that drove the MacDonald family from their lovely farmhouse in Caledonian Mills. There was no ghost at the "haunted" house, Dr. Walter E. Prince, acting director of the American Society for Psychical Research, declared in a report from Halifax after a week's investigation. According to reports, the mysterious fires in the MacDonald farmhouse were set by human hands. The knots tied in the tails of cattle were put there by the same hands, and the slapping of persons in the house by unseen hands was imagined. Thus ends the story of the "house of spooks"—the MacDonald farmhouse of Antigonish.—Copyright, 1922, by Underwood & Underwood.

Dead Man to Be 100th Birthday Banquet 'Guest'

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—Probably the weirdest birthday party in history will be held here Thursday night.

Dr. J. M. Peebles, a dead man, will be the guest of honor at his own centenary anniversary.

The Long Life League is to be host. According to Guy Bogart, executive secretary, an invitation has been sent to Dr. Peebles and his acceptance received from the next world.

Bogart said that Dr. Peebles explained he was being feasted in heaven on the same day, in honor of his earthly centenary, but would make every effort to attend both functions.

A cover will be set for Dr. Peebles and a place reserved for him in the speakers' circle. He will be invited to speak a few words.

Curiously enough the scene of the spectral banquet will be an exceptionally mundane-looking cafeteria of South Broadway.

The subject to be discussed is "What Must the Church Do to Be Saved?"

The speakers, in addition to Dr. Peebles, are Rev. J. H. Ryland, M. E. pastor, Rabbi Isador Myers and Rt. Rev. R. S. Cooper of Kretton, regional bishop to the United States of the Liberal Catholic church.

Dr. Peebles was, in life, a believer in the power of the departed to communicate with this earth if they so desired. He pledged to prove this to his friends by communicating with them after death.

Chinese Attempts to Kill Paris Minister

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PARIS, March 21.—An attempt was made today to assassinate Mr. Chen-Lai, Chinese minister to France. Four shots were fired at him by Chinese youth, none of which took effect. Tsan-Gow, a Chinese engineer, who was accompanying the minister, was wounded in the head.

The minister's assailant, who surrendered shortly after the shooting, is a student, who gave his name as Lee-Ho-Ling. He was disgruntled with the attitude of the minister toward the Chinese in Paris, which he complained of as unkind.

Dye Works Entered; Ten Suits Stolen

Burglars broke into the Bay City Dyeing Works, 2717 San Pablo avenue, and stole ten suits of men's clothes and two ladies' dresses. The theft was reported to the police by J. D. Castro. The entrance was gained by forcing the rear door.

This Leaves the Arms Free From Hair Growths

(Toilet Talks)

A simple method for completely removing every trace of hair or fuzz is here given. This is painless and usually a single treatment will banish even stubborn growths. To remove hairs, make a thick paste with some powdered talc and water, spread on hairy surface and after about two minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This method will not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be certain you get talc—Advertisement.

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL ASKS VINDICATION AT BOARD'S HANDS

Action on Request of Elizabeth Arlett Delayed; Rules Amendments Offered.

A request by Principal Elizabeth Arlett for vindication from recent charges of doing politics in school time was finally laid over by the board of education last night after a short argument, which was the only feature of a subdued board meeting.

Miss Arlett, principal of the Alexander Hamilton junior high school, reminded the board that charges were brought against her on January 16 and called forth her explanation and defense, which were given. Superintendent of Schools Fred J. Hunter last night recommended that she be exonerated.

Chairman Boyle suggested that the matter be laid over until the return of Mrs. Ormsby, who was absent. A motion to exonerate Miss Arlett was lost. Director Campbell, then suggested that, as Mrs. Ormsby brought up the matter Mrs. Ormsby should be present when it is discussed.

RECORD IS READ.

"Director Campbell made those charges against Miss Arlett," said Director Daisy Short.

"You know that's not true," said Campbell.

Stenographic testimony of a previous meeting was called in concerning Campbell's statement at that time that Miss Arlett was "doing politics."

"I may have mentioned the name," said Campbell, "but I did not originate the charge."

The rest of the session was devoted to routine work except when Director J. F. Chandler suggested that George Thirlot be relieved of teaching his course in business English, at his own request, thus saving $60 per month.

"I am for it unless Thirlot is the subject of coercion," said Campbell. "It may be that he was instructed to leave by request."

"I wish to deny any thought of coercion," said Superintendent Fred Hunter, after which the project to relieve Thirlot of the task was lost by failure to win a majority vote.

BIDS FOR PLASTERING.

Bids were called for the plastering of Lockwood school, and a method was decided upon for the collection of one per cent of the custodians' salaries for the benefit of the unemployed.

The board of arbitration appointed to adjust the differences between the board and Contractor E. W. Parks of St. Clair street compelled Parks to do some extra tinning and then recommended that the school be accepted. This was finally done.

An amended plan for the foundations of the new Lockwood school was approved, as the soil demands a deeper foundation than originally expected.

Two amendments to the new rules of the board, as proposed recently by Mrs. Short, were laid on the table at the request of Mrs. Short. She asserted later that the rules will be thoroughly attended to when the board is reorganized with Commissioner Baccus present.

In order to provide a safer clearance between gutter and street car tracks, the traction company requested that a bend of a curve at the Mary Smith property on Park boulevard be set back four feet. The matter was referred to the building program committee.

Dirigibles to Carry Airplanes Suggested To War Department

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Development of a huge dirigible airplane carrier from which a fleet of small fighting planes can be launched in mid-air is probable in the near future, Brigadier-General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service, who has just returned from a three-month investigation of aviation in Europe, said today.

Such a huge craft could obtain a big advantage from an army by soaring up near the battlefield and then launching its planes. The planes could be carried a long distance into the enemy territory at night, attack the enemy strongholds and still have sufficient fuel to return to their own lines.

Alleged Auto Thief Is Held to Answer

Police Judge Mortimer Smith today held George Elliott to answer in the Superior Court for the theft of an automobile. His bail was set at $2000. The machine belonged to Richard E. Kelley, 3042 Telegraph avenue, Berkeley. The machine was stolen, it is alleged, from Nineteenth and Telegraph avenue by Elliott and Ralph Dove, who is now serving a term in San Quentin. The men were arrested in San Diego.

Capital Punishment Law Upheld in Oregon

SALEM, Ore., March 21.—Oregon's capital punishment law was upheld by the Supreme court today in denying the application of Elvie D. Kerby, under death sentence in connection with the murder of Sheriff Till Taylor of Umatilla county, for a writ of habeas corpus.

Pleasant Valley to Make Improvements

The Pleasant Valley Community Club, composed of residents in Pleasant Valley Court and adjoining streets at the end of Piedmont avenue, has planned a number of improvements in the neighborhood. The triangle at Moraga road will be played Sunday and planted with shrubs. The city has agreed to provide the plants while members of the club will do the work. Several additional street lights will be hung in the near future.

A traffic officer in front of Piedmont school will be asked for. Paul Redington is president of the club, Cary L. Hill secretary and Mrs. Carl F. Woods, treasurer. The next meeting will be held at the home of M. M. Moffitt.

"UP TO THE PRESIDENT."

After a ten days' rest the President is back at the Capital with several legislative problems to face. Congress, either unwilling to progress or incapable of progress, is continuing at the old device of shirking responsibility and passing the buck to the President.

There is first the bonus question. Congress sees plainly that it cannot adopt the propaganda of the sales tax as a financial policy and that any schedule of special taxes, beside facing the objection of President Harding, is certain to meet vigorous opposition throughout the country. And not having the courage to face opposition on a bonus program that would require the immediate raising by taxation of revenue out of which to pay the bonus, it has fallen upon the cheap and discreditable resort of a "paper" bonus. It would have the government issue promissory notes payable in five years and let the question of revenue to redeem the notes when due go over to a subsequent session of Congress.

Those in the House who bear the courtesy title of leaders now want the President to "advise" them what to do next—really they want him to get them out of a difficult situation, to make a new decision for them.

The treaty situation in the Senate is still unsettled. There is an agreement to close debate and vote on the four-power Pacific treaty next Friday. The treaty discussions are choking off the transaction of other important business in the Senate. They have been running three weeks. With the naval limitations treaty coming up next, it is not certain when they will end. At best, the Senate will have consumed from a month to six weeks on a matter that should have been settled in one week.

The House program to force a large and unsafe reduction in the army and navy by denying necessary appropriation are certain to demand the personal attention of the President.

There are also the permanent tariff bill and the ship subsidy bill demanding attention as soon as the treaties are out of the way. It will be necessary no doubt for the President again to remind Congress of the necessity to find a way to function more expeditiously.

THE NEW INDIAN WOMAN.

Last month there left Oakland an Indian girl, Miss Ruth Muskrat of the Cherokee tribe, en route for Peking, China, where she will attend a conference of college students representing some forty nations. She is a student at the University of Kansas, where she is working her way through, after several years of Y. W. C. A. work among her own race on the Cherokee reservation in Oklahoma and on the Mesquero Apache reservation in New Mexico. This Indian girl will exchange information and views with students of Korea, China and other Asiatic countries and with students from Europe and Latin America.

Not many girls have gone as far in the intellectual and social emancipation of woman as Miss Muskrat. But her case is interesting. The Indian women had a lot to overcome after they learned the ways of their white sisters. In the social and family order of all the Indian tribes the woman was assigned all the manual work. She had no competition from the men.

But a change has come about. While this Cherokee girl is an extreme example of the advance so far achieved, she is a sign of a movement that is by no means to be ignored by students of social and sociologic conditions. Her example has not been unnoticed by the other Indian women of her tribe and of other tribes. Indeed there are hundreds of Indian girls studying just as hard as she has studied and preparing for the role of leadership in the instruction of their people.

Through their women, originally assigned to the lowly role of camp drudge, the men of the Indian race, those who survive the contact with civilization, will owe much for their attainment of those virtues which are supposed to qualify men for modern citizenship.

WHERE THE WORST SURVIVES.

"Vladivostok today is an epitome of all that the demonic life and character of Peter the Great was in forging the Russian Empire, where his dream is in the nature of a retribution to all his crimes and ambitions and those of his successors. For it is the inheritor of all that remains of national Russia and the flag of the Empire, including the worst. It is the legatee of Petrograd, and in turn of Ekaterinodar, Murmansk, Odessa and Sebastopol. It is the last stand on Russian soil of the provisional government of Kerensky, a last ditch which, when lost, will leave Russia's bitter-enders standing alone in refuge on alien soil."

Thus wrote Mr. Frederick McCormick, THE TRIBUNE's special correspondent in Siberia for the last ten months, in his splendid descriptive story in Sunday's issue of this newspaper on Vladivostok and the political regime of the Russian Pri-Amur government set up by the Japanese ministry of war through the Merkuloff brothers. It pictures a tragic finale to the Russian Empire of the Romanovs, to which the Kerensky revolutionaries felt heir in 1917.

It is largely a figure of speech to say that the jurisdiction of the Pri-Amur government is the final stand of the Kerensky regime on Russian soil. It belongs to that regime in that it is opposed to the Communists and came into being as a move in opposition to the Reds. It also belongs to the things of Peter the Great and the succeeding czaristic administrations because it is a power of intrigue and crime. But as to the ideals and aspirations of the Kerensky political movement of October, 1917, it knows little of them.

When Mr. McCormick was in Vladivostok, the territory actually under the control of the Merkuloffs was limited to a strip twenty-five miles wide along the Ussuri railway and its extensions outward from Vladivostok, and a few islands in and near the harbor. Since the article was written the Merkuloffs have been thrown out of power by the Japanese military authorities as a result of Mr. McCormick's exposures of Japan's anti-American plots. They were brought by the Japanese over from the island of Saghalien, where they had resided for some time as exiled offenders against Russian laws. Undoubtedly Japan has by this time arranged to put equally responsive tools into their place.

This Russian Pacific port where Peter the Great placed the eastern limit of his dreams of wide-flung empire is one of the spots where the dregs of the old regime of Russia have concentrated. The other concentration points are Berlin, where the monarchist emigres are busy with apparently futile plots with the German monarchists scheming for restoration of their order; in Paris and Prague, where the political followers of Kerensky, Miliukov and Lvoff carry on their sundry efforts to get their message through to the Russian people; and in Constantinople, where officers, soldiers and camp followers of Baron Wrangel have stopped temporarily.

In Vladivostok only the dregs are active. There the worst of the old order, that which was made and adjudged the worst by the old order, survives a little while. It is kept in power by Japan, because it has a monetary price, which is quite reasonable, for doing Japan's bidding. It gets its power to live from Japan freely, because it can be used by that country to maintain the fiction of a native Russian faction fighting other factions; to maintain factional warfare and political disorder against the time when that competent Russian government to extend reasonable protection to native and foreign interests would signal the hour of Japan's departure from Siberia.

Among the many courses to be taught at the University of California summer school are those of Mr. August Vollmer, chief of police of Berkeley, on criminology—the character of criminals, their methods of operation, means of their detection, apprehension, identification; and the prevention of crime. In other courses there will also be considered the subject of the reformation of criminals and their saving to useful citizenship. But one subject is not yet in the curriculum. It is the administration of a police force so that it will record the maximum efficiency and honesty in serving the public. This has long been a neglected subject. It receives active attention from time to time, by such a police executive as Commissioner Colbourn of Oakland and by the method he has adopted of separating the unfit members from the department. But it is a subject big enough and important enough to deserve specialization. Perhaps back of it may be found the solution of many of the police and crime problems.

As its program now stands in the report of the naval appropriations committee, Congress would reduce the personnel strength of the navy to about 65,000 men. This would necessitate the reduction of the combative strength of the navy to a nine battleship basis, only half as large as that contemplated by the naval limitations agreement.

Bobby was commanded to give his little sister a part of his apple and he gave her the seeds. What a lot of people in the world have the childish impulse!

"The stork visited at Dave Howard's a few days ago and left a fine baby, a boy or a girl, but we haven't learned which."

Spring Is Here!

Where would one go to meet Spring when she crossed the line of Aries? We looked for her in the color of hosiery in the store windows, in the verse of youth and in optimism of age. All that we found was her handiwork—it was Spring, herself, the dainty maiden with the tinted scarfs and risky habit of dancing on the damp grass, whom we were searching.

We found Spring piping on a reed, dancing and smiling—what we saw was a fixed and celluloid smile. "Whereas make?" Oh, asked, and the music of her piping set us to shuffling and capering. We felt foolish, not unlike a lamb, or an easter bunny, but we capered.

"You can ask," said gentle Spring. "You can smile and you can dance. But how would you like to do it barefoot with all these sharp rocks, nettles and tobacco cans about? Dancing over the green is one thing, but dancing over a lot of last year's picnic grounds is another. Why can't Spring wear shoes?" Oh, my gosh, I wish this job were over!

We danced with Spring all over the Berkeley hills. It was the only way we could get the interview, and, besides, there was something about the music. How she could dance and blow on the pipes at the same time was substance for marveling. As dancers go, we take back seats for no one, but this Spring tripped circles around us and where her feet fell flowers bloomed. Ours left rude dents and we were short of wind.

"Anyhow," we yelled with what yell we had left. "We bid you welcome."

Spring stood on one toe and waved a bluebell at us. "Go, chase yourself," she shouted, and went on with her dance.

Musically and socially the chief event of the season will be the concert to be given by Madame Rosemary Rose, dramatic soprano, Thursday evening. Society is to blossom forth to greet the world-famous prima donna, and those who know declare that the Sheboygan Opera house will present a brilliant picture when the city's own diva appears. Rich furs, striking brooches, the opulence of sequins, glittering crystal beads nestling in the soft folds of meteor silks, rare jewels, will mingle in colorful riot as the Sheboygan society assembles for the big event.

MARKING THE LANDING FIELD.

NOTES and COMMENT

The Brooklyn Eagle descants on college education: "The National Students' Advisory Board advises all German high school pupils not to go to college, but to learn a trade instead. It pleads: 'Our nation lacks bread for its many workers, while the academic professions are overcrowded. Thousands of college men are already forced to earn their living by manual labor.' The problem suggested here is not distinctively a German problem. In America, as in Holland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, the issue is at least delayed, but how long we cannot possibly conjecture."

Stockton Record approves a wholesome order: "No advertising signs in the national forests. That is the order of the California district forester. Those on trees and rocks will be effaced. Any small soil that hopes to dodge this order by sticking his business card around anywhere on the landscape will be cordially ejected, as he always has been, by those who go to the mountains to get away from thoughts of business and who enjoy their scenery without any patches on it."

Medford Mail-Tribune on feminine fear of fat: "The war on feminine fat continues unabated by Galshevskis, mad at the inability to retain the lines of 16 at 44. They are substituting mostly on spinach. Spinach is about as palatable as a handful of common string, and is a weed in water form. A great obesity reducer used to be an old-fashioned zinc washboard."

Canada's population, stated and remarked upon by the New York Herald: "Tabulated results of the Canadian census taken in 1921 show that the population of the Dominion is now 8,772,631, which is less than that of the State of New York with its 10,385,227 inhabitants in 1920. Canada's population in the last decade has increased only 1,476,048, as against an increase in the previous decade of 1,833,328, thus showing a decrease in the rate of growth from 34 per cent in 1911 to a little more than 20 per cent in 1920."

The Oregonian explains that Portland will charge a fee of 50 cents a day for use of its automobile camp this year, with a ten-day limit. It holds that this is not capitalizing hospitality; that the self-respecting tourist does not seek something for nothing. "A base from which to radiate in this beautiful region is worth its cost."

The Chicago News keeps tab on occurrences in this general direction: "With one spectacular murder trial going off stage, another in the limelight and a third waiting the wings, Los Angeles may be said to stand unrivaled as the world's sensation center."

One morning a negro sauntered into the office of a white friend.
"Good mawin," Mr. Withrow. Kin I use yo' phone a minute?" he asked.
"Why, certainly, Sam."

Sam called his number, and after a few minutes' wait said: "Is this Mrs. Whiteside?" Well, I seen in de paper where you-all wanted a good colored man. Is you still wantin' one? Then the man youse got is perfectly satisfactory, and you doesn't contemplate makin' no change soon? All right, ma'am. Good-by."

Mr. Withrow called to Sam as he left the phone, "Now, that's too bad, Sam, that the place is filled."

"Oh, dat's all right, Mr. Withrow. I'se de nigger what's got de job, but I'se just a-wantin' to check up."—Argonaut.

"One Way Out."

A man was walking down the street one day when he met an old friend.
"Hello, Bill!" he said. Can you lend me a shilling, old sport?"
"Very sorry," replied the other. "I haven't a quarter, but I've got a dime."

"Never mind," said Jim. "Lend me that and owe me the other 15 cents."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Counteracted.

"I'm surprised to hear Maude is married. She once told me that she would never promise to obey any man."

"Oh, she got around that by marrying the bridegroom promise never to command."—Boston Transcript.

About YOUR HEALTH

What Your Spleen Does and What Banti's Disease Is

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.,
Commissioner of Health,
New York City.

Some organs of the body are rarely heard of, and their diseases are unknown to the layman.

What do you know about the spleen? Most of you hardly know where it is, and certainly know less of what it is intended to do. Let's consider it a few minutes:

This organ lies in the abdomen, on the left side of your body. In the average person it weighs about one-half pound. It measures three or four inches by five or six inches, and is an inch or two thick.

The spleen has the power to take from the blood germs, dead blood-cells and foreign materials. It is a great filter, intended to purify the blood stream.

Sometimes the spleen suffers from disease. It may be enlarged and become greatly enlarged.

If you ever lived in a "malarious climate," as they used to call the regions where the malaria-carrying mosquito—you know something about the spleen. In the section of the country where I was born everybody used to have malaria. I had it one year from August till New Year's.

In malaria the spleen may become so enlarged as to weigh eight or ten pounds.

There is a disease which begins in the spleen itself, called "Banti's disease." It is accompanied by attacks of anemia, and by generally increasing enlargement of the organ.

The causes are not well understood. There may be no symptoms of discomfort, and the first evidence of trouble may be the enlargement.

The disease is essentially one of early life, rarely appearing after the age of 40. It is obstinate, extending over a period of many years.

The wonderful thing about this condition, apparently so serious, is that there is usually no pain. The enormous swelling may cause some inconvenience, but rarely is there any other evidence of trouble.

After awhile the victim becomes anemic, but the paleness is usually gradual at the onset.

It is not uncommon for the abdomen to fill up with fluid. This accumulation, together with the enlargement of the spleen, produces enormous swelling of that part of the body.

Fortunately, Banti's disease is rare. Therefore we need not worry about it. The most successful treatment is surgical. Complete removal of the spleen is followed by recovery of the health and disappearance of all the symptoms.

ORATOR REED.

In the midst of his exhortation of Ambassador Harvey, Senator Reed of Missouri cut loose from his tether and referred in impassioned accents to "old Stonewall" Jackson behind the cotton bales of New Orleans. One of his colleagues corrected him in a voice audible throughout the chamber, and Reed went straight on and called Jackson Andrew in the next sentence, as though nothing had happened. At another point in the speech he made Andrew Jackson author of the command "Wait till you can see sights (sic) of their eyes." Mr. Reed is a great orator, —Waterbury American.

First Cargo of Belgian Steel Arrives Here

CARRYING a cargo made up of the first steel to be made in the first factory in Belgium to be destroyed by the Germans in the world war, the French steamer Montana passed into San Francisco bay through Golden Gate today, completing her maiden voyage. The steel carried in the Montana's hold is to be used in the construction of the California Palace of the Legion of Honor, now being built on the heights of Lincoln park, San Francisco, by Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Spreckels as a memorial to the fallen heroes of the war.

The Montana is a steamer of 3000 tons capacity and is the fifth vessel to enter the European service of the French line between this port and Bordeaux. The steamer St. Louis, carrying a cargo of the same steel, is due here April 2. The factory from which the steel to be used on the palace was made, was the first to be destroyed by the Germans in Belgium. The machinery was removed by the invaders, and was the first restored.

My Favorite Stories by IRVIN S. COBB

A Passion for Statistics

Down in the foothills of the Tennessee mountains there once resided a gentleman whose claims to distinction lay in three things—his appetite, his capacity and his digestion. He played no favorites in the food line—he could eat anything that was edible and in incredible quantities. But if he liked one thing a little better than anything else that thing was canned oyster of commerce—the kind that used to be packed in a circular can with a bull's head on the label and which was customarily anointed with pepper sauce before being consumed.

In the hope of testing his storage facilities a group of his neighbors formed a pool, each contributing half a dollar. The entire amount was invested in oyster cans and then the champion was invited to come to the general store on an appointed afternoon and show what he could do. He came and before an awe-stricken audience he showed.

Disdaining to use tools he swallowed down the provided bivalves, juice and all, from the container. Almost before the storekeeper could open a fresh can he had emptied the can opened a minute before. In half an hour the supply on the shelves of the store had vanished and still the marvel showed no evidences of being satiated.

He scooped up a few truant oysters which had lodged in his whiskers and in the opening of his waistcoat and sent them on their way to join their brethren. Then he remarked:

"Wall, since there don't 'pear to be no more eatin' goin' on I reckon I'd better be puttin' out for home—it's gittin' on toward supper time."

Two of the contributors to the purse drifted out upon the porch to watch his slouching figure vanish in the dusk. For a space they stood in silence. Then one of them said:

"Tain't no matter of doubt about it—I reckon that there Anse Coombs is shorely the champion cove oyster eater of all creation."

"He shorely is," agreed the other.

"I wonder how many cove oysters could he eat at one sittin'?" said the first.

"More'n you and me could pay fur—I know that much," said the second.

"I wonder could he eat all the cove oysters they is in the world?" said the first.

"I don't know," said the second; "how many cove oysters is they in the world, anyway?"

Merely McEvoy

In the days of old when knights were bold,
(Or, so the story goes)
The merry maid was unafraid
Of surplus adipose;
If this or that would make her fat
She never turned a hair,
And what was meant by corpulent,
She did not know—nor care.

But olden days and olden ways
And olden hopes are dead,
The ancient peace and sweet surcease
From harried lives are fled.
Above each plate a bitter fate
Awaits the modern Miss,
And demons rise in cakes and pies
To cry: "There's fat in this!"

No more she eats the soothing sweets
With gay and happy face,
For the stealthy starch may steal a march
In the carbohydrate's place;
And gone the joy when she could toy
With this and likewise that;
Each bite she weighs with troubled gaze
And fearfully she sighs and prays:
"Oh, please don't make me fat!"

CANARY SAVED IN FIRE SINGS AT MISTRESS' BIER

Widow Gave Life to Rescue
Bird That Will Sing at Funeral

BERKELEY, March 21.—A canary sings blithely today in a fire-damaged home at 1239 Grove street while his mistress lies silent in the long sleep of death.

Mrs. Anna Wilson, a widow, 67 years old, sacrificed her life late yesterday afternoon in order that her pet, which she had owned for months, might live.

Captain Lawrence Buchanan of the Berkeley fire department, who with other fire fighters broke into the little home, found the aged woman unconscious on the floor of the kitchen, lying on a mass of flames. Nearby a bird cage was covered with a blanket, the last act of the woman. An air-tight stove in the living room of the home was crackling away.

According to investigations made by Sergeant Oscar Puzik of the police department, the woman's clothing evidently became ablaze when she sat too near the stove. That she made a vain attempt to save her own life, after she had cared for her bird, was shown in the fact that a faucet in the kitchen was turned on full blast. Neighbors saw smoke issuing from the windows of the home and summoned the fire department. The residence was practically undamaged. Mrs. Wilson died almost immediately after being found.

Funeral arrangements are awaiting the arrival of a brother, W. F. Arnolds, from Los Angeles. There are two sons, both believed to be in the south. Mrs. Wilson had lived alone at the Grove street address for the past four years with her canary. Little is known about her by her neighbors.

ENGLISH FILM THREATENING TO CLOSE THEATERS

LONDON, March 21.—English motion picture exhibitors are threatening to close down in the summer unless the existing high entertainment tax imposed by the British government is abolished.

"Each day brings the film industry nearer to ruin," declared A. E. Newbould, M. P., the chief spokesman of the English film industry, at a mass meeting of exhibitors held in London.

The meeting, called to denounce the continuation of the tax, which at present raises a dollar sent to a dollar and a half, passed a unanimous resolution stating that ruin faced the industry if the impost was not abolished.

One proposal to be submitted to the government as a result of the meeting is that the tax should be removed during the summer months, falling which it is suggested that the theaters should close down together and thus saving thousands of people out of employment.

Cotton Mills Cut Wages 20 Per Cent

LAWRENCE, Mass., March 21.—The Pacific Mills, a cotton and worsted plant employing 10,000 persons normally, today announced a wage reduction of approximately 20 per cent. Two other large plants here were understood to be preparing a similar announcement for issuance later in the day. The Pacific cut, effective March 27, is the first in this textile center since the movement of wage revision began this year. It is one of the few made in Massachusetts mills to date.

Sewing Bee Planned At Plymouth Church

All of the sections of the Women's Clubs of Plymouth congregational church will hold a joint all-day sewing bee at Macdonald hall tomorrow.

A cafeteria luncheon will be served at noon. Missionary current events will be a special luncheon feature, and will be conducted by Mrs. C. L. Kloss, Mrs. L. B. Avery, and others. All Plymouth women have been extended an invitation to the affair.

GHOST OF KING DICK

LONDON, March 21.—The simple country folk living about Bosworth Field, where Richard III. was defeated, report that they frequently see walking about a ghost with a luminous green cloak and a golden crown.

THE LAUNDRY DRAIN REVEALS WHAT WASH- DAY RUBBING DOES TO YOUR CLOTHES

Next washday after you have let all the water run out of the laundry tub, peer down the drain and see what is there.

Bits of lint, tiny fuzzy balls, little roughed-up threads. You've noticed them often—did it ever occur to you what they were? Particles of the materials that make up your clothes. And you yourself have worn them off rubbing the clothes on a wash-board.

Now there is a way to remove every bit of dirt without injuring the material in any way.

Soak your clothes in Rinso suds. This new kind of soap is so rich in pure cleansing ingredients that it gently loosens and dissolves all the dirt. There is no hard rubbing, no wear and tear on the clothes—nothing to break or even weaken the fabric.

SAN LEANDRO

Mayor Pelton to Seek Re-election

SAN LEANDRO, March 21.—Mayor Allen Pelton of San Leandro yesterday filed his petition with City Clerk J. J. Gill, making him eligible as a candidate for re-election at the April city trustee election. C. Q. Rideout, former member of the local board of trustees, according to friends, will make a last-minute entrance into the lists, and his petition was expected to be filed today. L. F. Toffelmier has declared he again will seek office. Mrs. Mae Madarra, it is said, will not run. Time allowed for the filing of petitions closed at 12 o'clock noon today.

Social Plans Made By Native Daughters

SAN LEANDRO, March 21.—Members of the Native Daughters of San Leandro are preparing for a series of social activities during the month of April. Plans have already been completed for a dance, entertainment and a shower. Elizabeth Goodman has been appointed chairman of the dance committee, and Anna Valance of the arrangements for the entertainment.

A banquet will be held by members of the local organization Saturday night. It will be a joint celebration of the seventh anniversary date, and in compliment to the newly-initiated fourteen members.

5000 Maccabees Are Invited to Oakland

Five thousand members of the Maccabees will come to California next year to attend the Supreme Convention of the Order of the Pacific Coast, it is announced. The advantages of Oakland as a convention city have been placed before Miss Bina M. West, Supreme Commander of the Women's Benefit Association of the Order, by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. A message sent to Miss West by the Chamber of Commerce yesterday reads:

"Allow us to join your local members in presenting the many exceptional advantages of Oakland as a convention city. Oakland has an ample number of high-class modern hotels. Its new million dollar auditorium on the shores of beautiful Lake Merritt offers convention hall with seating capacity of nine thousand, theater with seating capacity of two thousand, together with smaller committee rooms. Oakland is the terminus of wonderful paved highways which reach north, south and east into the heart of California. It is the site of the University of California and enjoys an ideal convention climate during summer months. It will be but a few degrees warmer in June than it is today."

WOUNDED GIRL RECOVERS.
DIXON, Ill., March 21.—Miss Mildred Butler, 16, who was shot last evening by her lover, Nick Smith, Jr., 19, will recover, hospital attendants said today. The youth, after shooting the girl, turned the weapon on himself and put a bullet through his heart.

Kansas' winter wheat crop will amount to 122,000,000 bushels.

San Leandro Needs Homes, Agent Says

SAN LEANDRO, March 21.—Housing conditions in San Leandro are inadequate to accommodate the influx of settlers, according to M. M. Bradley, real estate man of this city. It was said by Bradley that approximately ten persons enter his office weekly, desiring homes, with the view of establishing themselves permanently if conditions and location are suitable.

Bradley believes that at the present time there are at least 75 houses under the course of construction in various portions of the city. "There are ten homes being built on Sunny Drive alone," states Bradley. "Also six homes on Cambridge avenue, practically adjoining each other. The rest of the city is being built up with almost corresponding rapidity."

49 DELEGATE NAMED.
SAN LEANDRO, March 21.—J. Allison Bruner, city attorney of San Leandro and member of the Chamber of Commerce, has been appointed representative of this city at the 49th annual convention of the Sacramento Valley Association to be held in Sacramento May 23 to 25. A recent communication from the capital city chamber requested that San Leandro send a representative to be present at the festivities.

C. OF C. BANQUET TONIGHT

SAN LEANDRO, March 21.—The San Leandro Chamber of Commerce will hold their quarterly banquet tonight. Governor W. D. Stephens will be guest of honor, with C. C. Wilson, secretary of the Alameda chamber, acting as principal speaker.

Assistant Engineer For Berkeley Named

BERKELEY, March 21.—H. H. Schwarze was appointed assistant sanitary engineer at the meeting of the city council today. He will fill the position vacated by the resignation of H. O. Vonder Mehden, who recently resigned to enter business. Schwarze's salary was set at $175.

Schwarze's appointment was made after opposition on the part of Mayor Louis Bartlett, who declared that the position could be abolished without being missed in the department. Possibility that all business houses in Berkeley will be compelled to obtain licenses and therefore be under police control, was seen in the action of the council providing for a study of such a plan. The suggestion was made by Councilman Carl Bartlett and the council decided to make a study of the proposed plan, which is receiving the support of the police department.

MAYOR COMMENDS WATER FACILITIES IN SAN LEANDRO

Investigation Proves System
Is Adequate, Board of Trustees Told.

SAN LEANDRO, March 21.—Conditions governing the local water system, recently the subject of an investigation, were explained to the San Leandro board of trustees at its semi-monthly meeting last night by Mayor Allen Pelton. According to Pelton, the system adequately is serving its purpose, and he commended it.

Residents in the Broadmoor district who were expected to appear before the board and protest against the recent consolidation of voting precincts did not attend the meeting. A communication was received from Mrs. J. E. Mason, chairman of the local Red Cross, requesting a donation of $40 to cover a deficit of that amount.

Playground conditions and the advisability of increasing the superintendent's salary were discussed. They will be brought up again at the next meeting.

No protests regarding the installation of electroliters on Estudillo street were heard. April 17 was set as the date for the hearing of bids.

W. J. Gannon, representative of the industrial committee of the chamber of commerce, requested that a communication be directed to the board of supervisors, asking that

MARINES FIRST USED TO GUARD MAILS IN 1775

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The use of American marines as mail guards was not entirely original with former Postmaster General William Hays, according to Major General Wendell C. Neville, Marine Corps, who says that the marines were first used for this duty in the Revolution.

The first authentic record of marine mail guards, according to General Neville, deals with marines from Hartford, Conn., in May, 1775. At this time reinforcements, mail dispatches and a chest of 500 pounds specie were sent to Fort Mifflin, captured from the British shortly before. As reliable guards were scarce, eight marines, "well equipped and well spirited," were sent to escort the treasure. There are other instances recorded where the Continental government and Congress relied on marines for such duties.

CONGRESSMAN ELECTED

STANTON, W. Va., March 21.—With no opposition, Harry St. George Tucker of Lexington was assured of his election today to succeed the late Henry D. Flood as a member of Congress from the Tenth Virginia district.

Quicksilver is an essential component in the manufacture of munitions.

Some action be taken on the repairing and cleaning up of both the approach to the San Leandro beach and the beach proper. J. J. Gill, city clerk, was told to take charge of the matter.

The meeting was adjourned until March 27, when the question of organizing a municipal utility district, extending from Richmond to San Leandro, will be discussed and voted upon.

ANCIENT ANIMALS OF COLORADO ARE TO BE 'REBUILT'

"Real Thing" To Be Reproduced From Bones of Fossils Unearthed.

DENVER, March 21.—Exact reproductions of mammals that are believed to have existed in Colorado two million years ago and of vegetable and animal life at that period are being planned by officials of the Colorado Museum of Natural History in the museum here.

Instead of pictures of almost preposterous-looking animals that science claims roamed the Western plains eons ago, the "real thing" will be reproduced by the use of bones and fossils recently unearthed in the vicinity of Sterling, Colo.

Under the supervision of J. D. Higgins, director of the museum, the work of restoring this two-million-year-old scene is already under way.

"From the skeletons found in this ancient mudhole or lakebed near Sterling," Higgins announced, "we will be able to form the muscles of the animals and, from other information, the skin."

"We found skeletons of a giant pig, this is a skeleton of the rare Trigonias rhinoceros, a considerable part of a three-toed wild horse and part of a skeleton of a female Titanotherium—an enormous animal similar to rhinoceros. The pig is six feet high."

Board of Perfect Organization

WOODLAND, March 21.—A meeting of shepherds of Yolo, Solano and Colusa counties will be held here April 1 to perfect organization of an association which will provide for cooperative marketing of wool and lamba, and for other measures of interest to the shepherders.

At a meeting held last Saturday a committee to draft laws for the organization was named.

MEMBERSHIPS IN
TRIBUNE'S RADIO
CLUB SENT OUTLast of Applications Now on Hand Will Have Been Acted Upon Thursday.

More than 400 membership certificates to The TRIBUNE Radio Club were mailed out today; a like number will be in the mails tomorrow, and by Thursday all of the applications will have been taken care of. So numerous have been the applications for membership that the Radio Department of The TRIBUNE found itself swamped. Rush orders were sent to the printing department, and everybody got busy with the flood of mail. There were letters with questions, requests for further information on The TRIBUNE radio set, letters praising The TRIBUNE for the steps taken to promote the radio idea. But every envelope contained an application for membership in the club.

The radio department's two phones have been ringing constantly for the past two days.

"When do I get my membership card?"

Half of those who call want to know that. Never was there more enthusiasm over an organization. Boys of 10, men of 60 or more and all the ages in between are "getting in"—and girls and women, too. Three little girls called at the subscription counter yesterday and wanted to know how they could earn one of The TRIBUNE Radio Club receiving sets. The three live in the same block, and they had figured it out that by a little co-operation and teamwork they could win a set and use it jointly. One of them had a dollhouse on a back porch, and above the dollhouse brother has a radio room. The room is so sacred that no little girl ever enters—not if brother knows it. So the little girls are now going to have one of their own and will steal off brother's aerial. Brother, they say, has consented.

Applications for membership have come in from Medford, Ore., and from the most southern reaches of California. Two came from Mexico, and one from far away Canada. The electrician near Moose Jaw, who hears The TRIBUNE news bulletins each evening has sent in his application, and from out in Idaho comes another. The bulk of the applications are, of course, from the Eastbay district. It is predicted that The TRIBUNE Radio Club will have more than 2000 members by the middle of April, and if the applications continue at the present rate, that number will be reached long before April.

LESSON NO. 7
The Alternating Current Generator

For marine installations, in the operation of radio communication from ship to shore, the alternating current generator is in general use as a source of electrical energy. When installed on a vessel, it is usually mechanically rotated, by being coupled to a motor, and converts this mechanical energy into electrical energy for use in the operation of the radio transmitter. The method by which the alternating current generator develops electrical energy will be explained in this lesson.

When a coil of wire revolves in a magnetic field, of constant strength, and the lines of force through the coil increase or decrease at a uniform rate, the electrical current is induced in the coil. The amount of this induced current depends upon the rapidity of rotation, of the coil, and the strength of the magnetic field through which it cuts. The current in the revolving coil flows in one direction, during half a revolution through the magnetic field and in the reverse direction during the other half revolution. In other words, an alternating current is developed by the revolution of this closed coil of wire in the magnetic field.

The ends of the coil are connected to rings, called collector rings, and an outside circuit connected to brushes which bear upon the surface of the rings. Revolution of the coil induces a current which alternates back and forth through the external circuit of lead. If this arrangement is further developed by revolving many coils of wire in a strong magnetic field formed by several pairs of magnetic poles, we have the alternating current generator in present use.

This generator a strong magnetic field is produced by the four field poles (N), (S), (N), (S), each of which consists of a coil of wire wound around an iron core which is bolted to the iron frame of the generator. Direct current, from an outside source (DC) usually at a pressure of 110 volts, flows through these coils of wire wound in opposite directions so that adjoining field poles have an alternately north and south polarity. The amount of current passing through these coils, from the outside source, is regulated by a variable resistance (R) included in the circuit. This resistance is commonly known as a field rheostat.

The flow of current through the field coil is accompanied by magnetic lines of force or magnetic flux which follows the path from a field pole of north polarity to an adjacent pole of south polarity.

In place of the single coil we now have a revolving element (A) commonly known as the armature, consisting of many coils of wire wound longitudinally on a cylindrical core constructed of thin sheets of soft iron fastened firmly together. Proper connection of these coils causes the pressure generated in one coil to be added to that generated in the adjacent coil and the induced currents to flow, at any given moment in the same general direction. The resultant induced current is alternating in character and is collected by the brushes in contact with the collector rings from which it flows to the external load.

The pressure usually generated for the purpose of radio transmission varies from 110 to 500 volts.

RADIO CONCERTS
FOR TRIBUNE CLUB
TO BEGIN FRIDAYPrograms to Be Announced in Advance; News Bulletins
Sent Out Daily.

Beginning this week, The TRIBUNE wireless station on the Hotel Oakland will prepare in advance concerts and announce the program. Preston D. Allen, operator for The TRIBUNE and superintendent of the wireless, as well as head of the Western Radio Institute, will conduct the concerts. The news bulletins are sent out at 7:15, and compose a complete report of the news of the day. On Monday and Friday nights, in accordance with the program agreed upon for broadcasting stations, the concerts will be held. The concerts are from 8:15 to 9 p. m., and the first program will appear in The TRIBUNE Friday.

Afternoon concerts are sent out by (K2Y—Rockridge) from 2 to 4:30 p. m., and (K2N—Fairmont), 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. The TRIBUNE news bulletins, said to be the most complete news service sent out by radio anywhere in the United States, will begin at 7:15 sharp each evening except Sunday.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Radio Editor TRIBUNE: Please tell me which five stores in Oakland will allow a ten per cent discount to members of The TRIBUNE Radio Club.

HAYWARD J. COXON,
3130 51st Avenue, Oakland.

The California Electrical Construction company, 320 Twelfth street, Oakland; the Century Electrical company, Thirtieth and Clay streets, Oakland; Western Radio Supply company, Twelfth, between Harrison and Alice streets; the Oakland Electric company, 765 Eleventh street; the Spitzer Electric company, 1601 Clay street. The ten per cent discount will expire on June 15.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: What is the best practical text book upon the subject of radio? I have a receiving set, but would like particulars of a set capable of receiving over a radius of 250 miles, or preferably 500.

E. PROBERT.

A good practical text book is E. E. Puchner's "Practical Wireless Telegraphy." This may be secured at any radio supply house.

A receiving set capable of covering the above distance would consist of the following apparatus: A loose coupler (any standard make), a variable condenser of .001 capacity, a detector panel, vacuum tube detector and a pair of head telephone receivers. With the necessary batteries this equipment would retail at around $40. Members of The TRIBUNE Radio club are entitled to ten per cent off when purchasing this set from five of the radio dealers of Oakland, the names of which are to be found elsewhere in this column.

RADIO WEEK IN SEATTLE.

SEATTLE, March 21.—Mayor Hugh M. Caldwell has proclaimed the last week in April "Radio Week" in Seattle and announces that during the seven days a series of entertainments and news bulletins would be broadcast daily on a 24-hour basis from a central sending plant to be operated by the Seattle Radio Association.

Board to Hear Plea
Of Ousted Policeman

The hearing of the appeal of former Patrolman Joseph J. O'Brien against his dismissal tonight, before the civil service board, which will also set the date for the trial of Lee Gross, deputy food inspector, recently dismissed by order of Commissioner Frank Colborn at the same time that Traffic Sergeant John Henry Nedderman of the police department resigned.

Nedderman and Gross were supposed to be joint custodians of a certain police defense fund, which was investigated, and which started them to hurling charges and counter-charges against each other.

Patrolman Joseph O'Brien was dismissed on charges of neglect of duty, following an alleged liquor party where he made no arrests.

PLEADS GUILTY BY PHONE.

EVANESVILLE, O., March 25.—Pleading guilty by telephone is the latest here. L. A. Wright of Newark, "tagged" by police for parking his car in a safety zone, was in a hurry to get home. After mailing a check to pay his fine, he telephoned police headquarters and pleaded guilty.

RODEO-VALLEJO
FERRY FIRM BUYS
SIX-MINUTE LINETransaction Announcement
Affects Service at Crockett and Morrow Cove.

By JIM HOULIHAN.

An announcement made this morning by C. H. Klatt, secretary of the Rodeo-Vallejo Ferry Company, states that this corporation has purchased the entire interest of the Six Minute Ferry, which has been conducting an automobile ferry service between Crockett and Morrow Cove. The purchase price, Klatt declared, represents a figure exceeding $400,000.

The two ferry lines will be merged into one beginning Wednesday morning," Klatt said today.

The landing in Contra Costa county will be at Selby and the South Vallejo terminal will be used until permission has been received from the Solano county supervisors to land at the present Six Minute Ferry slip, Morrow Cove. When this right is granted the four boats of the Rodeo-Vallejo line will ply between Selby and Morrow Cove.

OTHER TRANSACTION.

This transaction does not conflict with the purchase, some weeks ago, of the Six Minute Ferry Company, which intended to maintain a boat service between Oakland and San Francisco. The corporation which ran boats between Vallejo and Crockett is known as the Six Minute Ferry and was independent of the Six Minute Ferry company.

The purchase of the Six Minute Ferry business gives the Rodeo-Vallejo Company four boats with which to give motor travel service. They are the J. J. Hanford, 2, no longer completed about a year ago; the San Jose, these two being large craft, and the steamers Vallejo and Issaquah, the latter two smaller and slower ships, either the Hanford or the San Jose.

For the present half-hour service will be given on the five week days, while on Saturday and Sunday four boats an hour will be operated to take care of heavy travel.

SAN FRANCISCO SERVICE.

Klatt also gave out news today that the Rodeo-Vallejo ferry officials will also operate the Golden Gate Ferry company, which institutes an automobile boat service between San Francisco and Sausalito on May 1.

James Robertson, the Alameda boat builder, is constructing three boats, each of which will carry ninety cars, that are to be used on the run between San Francisco and Marin shores. These are to have Diesel electric driven equipment.

It will take only eighteen minutes for one of these boats to cross from foot of Hyde street to the landing in Sausalito. Half-hour service daily and 20-minute service Saturday and Sunday will be provided to patrons of the Golden Gate Ferry company. The first of these new boats Robertson promises to have in operation on May 1.

Aven J. Hanford, president; J. Hanford, vice-president, and O. H. Klatt, secretary, are the principal officers of the Rodeo-Vallejo Ferry company.

N. Y. Debutante Wed
Secretly in France

NEW YORK, March 21.—The secret marriage in Paris of Miss Margaret A. Train, New York debutante, who went to France to study art, and Reginald Embree of Boston, an engineer, was announced in a cablegram received here today. The marriage took place last Saturday and this week the couple were to leave for a honeymoon in Algiers.

Mrs. Embree, who was considered one of the prettiest girls in New York society, is the daughter of former Assistant District Attorney Arthur Cheney Train, a novelist. Mrs. Embree's parents are now visiting in Santa Barbara, Calif.

Franklin H. Kruse
Dies Suddenly

Franklin H. Kruse, street department inspector since 1912, died suddenly last night at his home at 1239 East Thirtieth street. He was at his office yesterday but his failure to appear today led to inquiries, as he had not been in the best of health, and his death was officially reported to the civil service board.

Kruse had been a temporary appointee for years and had recently passed the civil service board examination with high honors for senior clerk. His permanent appointment was ready to be signed.

Kruse leaves a widow and small family. He was fifty years old. The funeral has not been arranged.

Alameda to Hear
Water, Power Debate

ALAMEDA, March 21.—Mayor Porter, of Riverside, and Eustace Cullinan, of San Francisco, will be the principal speakers at a debate on the proposed "Water and Power Act" to be held at the Porter school auditorium Friday night.

Mayor Porter will take the affirmative side of the debate, Cullinan the negative.

"The Water and Power Act" will be placed on the November ballot. W. J. Locke will be chairman of the evening.

10,000 Rubles Bring Letter
From Russia to Oakland Man

It's easier to lick 10,000 rubles worth of stamps now than it was in 1914, for the Russians are printing postage stamps in 1000-ruble denominations, as the above letter shows. The missive was received from Russia by Sam Klebanoff, a local tailor. The stamps are worth about 7 1/3 cents.

Postage Valued at $5000 in Pre-War Days Is Worth
7 1/3 Cents Now

Five thousand dollars in postage stamps were received on one letter today by Sam Klebanoff, a tailor living at 553 Alameda street. That is to say, they would have been worth $5000 before the World War. Today they are worth about 7 1/3 cents, for they are on a letter sent from Russia and the stamps were purchased with paper rubles.

One side of the envelope was plastered with 1000-ruble stamps. There were ten of these stamps and the value of the ruble before the war was about 50 cents. The gold ruble, of course is still worth in the neighborhood of 50 cents, as gold values do not fluctuate.

The latest quotation on Russian rubles is 137,000 paper rubles for $1. When a Russian flapper buys stamps to send a love letter to her "sweetie" she has to take a couple of hot other admirers along to carry the rubles in a gunnysack.

U. OF C. STUDENTS
BUSY WITH RADIO

BERKELEY, March 21.—Radio messages and aerial music are the particular interests of the Radio club at the University of California, and with the rapidly growing interest in radio communication, the membership in the organization is increasing. At present the collegians operate the "key" set in the inter-collegiate news service, which includes the universities of Oregon, Washington, Nevada and California.

A wireless telephone is being installed, and communication will soon be established with other colleges. Experiments have been made with an amplifier and a number caught from the air has been heard in all parts of the college grounds. If proper apparatus can be secured, the students plan to have a regular series of aerial concerts.

The boys who received the ticket awards last week were: Sergeants Howard Moody and James Habegger, Corporals Leland Witter and Howard Burnett, acting Corporals Elmer Johnson and Richard Glendennin, and Privates Charles Mynard, Paul Hackenjos and Allen Schetter.

Dance Planned As
Benefit for Jobless

Some of the unemployed will be put to work planting poppy and bushy seed as well as on berry bushes along the upper Park boulevard, with the proceeds from a benefit dance to be conducted by the Contra Costa Hills club in the municipal auditorium next Friday evening. The affair will be under the direction of Miss Annie Hayward.

A general invitation to all in sympathy with this movement to attend this dance was announced yesterday by J. Carl Seuberg, president of the Contra Costans, Marston Campbell, president of the Oakland park board, has promised to supply the club with seed and shoots of the California Christmas made.

BRIDGES CLOSED.

ALAMEDA, March 21.—The Park-street bridge between Alameda and Berkeley has been temporarily closed to traffic while undergoing repairs. Street car travel, however, will be permitted. The bridge is being replanked and other repairs made.

400 SEAMEN OF
CODFISH FLEET
ASSURED WORKTwo Years Layoff of Vessels
Is Ended and the First
Schooner Departs

Four hundred seamen engaged in the operation of the local codfish fleet were assured work after a two years lay-off today when the schooner Galilee, property of the Union Fish company, sailed through the estuary on its way to the Behring sea.

With Captain Daniel W. Hanson in charge of the vessel's crew of forty, the Galilee is making the first trip to the Alaska coast since the spring of 1920. She returned to Oakland on August 12 of that year and was tied up at Richardson's bay off Sausalito.

Difficulties between the crews and the ship owners over the wage scale resulted in the tie-up of the entire fleet of ten. An agreement was recently reached and plans were made by the owners to send the fleet of Alaska again. The Galilee is the first ship to leave.

During the period of tie-up the codfish catch was made at the southwestern Alaska station of the Union Fish company and the Alaska Fish company at Pirate Cove and Sanak and transported here for wholesale and retail delivery.

Several weeks ago the Galilee was moved from its mooring place to the local harbor and placed in dry dock for repairs. The other ships are now being put into shape for the annual summer cruise. Each vessel carries a crew of forty men.

Livermore Memorial
Home to Incorporate

Articles of incorporation were filed with the county clerk today by the Livermore Post Memorial Home and the Dimond Improvement club. Both incorporations are non-stock selling and are for fifty years. The Livermore Post Memorial Home is described as a community center for any man or woman of good moral character. The five directors and incorporators are J. M. Carter, G. A. Smallcomb, B. H. Todd, M. L. Maltland, Henry and Louis Clark.

The Dimond Improvement club purports to be for the general good and welfare of the Dimond district and will be governed by three directors, elected yearly. The incorporators are Ernest J. Engler, George J. Gilbert, John M. Kinncam, R. D. Phillips and C. M. Deane. Both organizations have already filed with the secretary of state.
